MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS

GLOBAL ECONOMY & INDIAN MEDIA AND ENTERTAINMENT INDUSTRY

In the year gone by, the global economic activity remained subdued. Growth in emerging markets and developing economies that account for over 70% of global growth declined for the fifth consecutive year, while a modest recovery continued in advanced economies.

Three key transitions that continued to influence the global outlook according to the IMF included:

(1) The gradual slowdown and rebalancing of economic activity in China away from investment and manufacturing and towards consumption and services

(2) lower prices for energy and other commodities,

(3) a gradual tightening in monetary policy in the United States in the context of a resilient U.S. recovery as several other major advanced economy central banks continue to ease monetary policy.

Against this global backdrop, the growth in India proved to be fairly robust. India was the fastest growing large economy with a stable currency, performing better than most other emerging market currencies. Riding on strong macroeconomic fundamentals, favorable business sentiments and downward trend in interest rates, the Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) expects the Indian economy to grow at around 8% in 2016-17. Even the Reserve Bank of India has forecast a GDP growth of 7.6% for 2016-17. The CSO data has also projected a growth of 7.6% for 2015-16, despite growth deceleration to 7.3% in the quarter ended December 2015.

The domestic macro-economic conditions also remained stable. However, a second consecutive year of drought and a low increase in support prices have led to a sharply slower growing rural economy compared to earlier years.

The government has taken several initiatives in the arenas of infrastructure, opening the doors to FDI, targeting inflation for monetary policy, easing the process of doing business, thinking about smart cities, urban development, growth of startups, skill development etc. The impacts of these policies would be evident in the years to come but will surely pave the way to a brighter India.

As a result of these initiatives and policies by the center, there is a major shift in the investor sentiment towards India. Investors across the globe are viewing India with renewed optimism and positivity. This coupled with policy reforms and strong government support will provide the impetus to a long term growth plan for India in the years to come.

The positive sentiment flowed down to the Indian Media and Entertainment Industry as well. The FICCI KPMG Report 2016 estimated the Indian M&E industry to grow at a CAGR of 13.9% to reach INR 1964 billion from INR 1026 billion by 2019, a growth rate double of its global counterpart. The key drivers for growth this year included the digitization of the cable TV sector, surge in the e-commerce landscape, heavy growth in traditional media coupled with innovations in the digital space.

Digital India – Broadband Opportunity for Cable MSOs

The Government's Digital India and Smart city initiatives are set to exponentially increase the Internet penetration in Tier II and Tier III cities, revolutionising SME businesses and the overall way of life.

India's estimated internet user base of more over 300 million as of December 2015 (as per KPMG analysis 2016) enabled through comparatively inexpensive internet access and extensive mobile connectivity. One of the critical issues for such limited coverage is the poor broadband coverage in the Tier II and Tier III cities.

Digital India – Digitization Driving Transformation in the Cable Television Ecosystem

Digitization is an important step in the process of providing transparency in the television value chain and to facilitate better monetization. The rollout of digital cable STB's in DAS Phase 1 and 2 markets were largely achieved in calendar year 2013. And DAS3 monetisation has been completed by March'16 in most of the cities. DAS 4 cities are likely to be digitised by Dec'16 deadline as mandated by TRAI.

Future Outlook : The Future outlook for the Indian television industry seems promising. The industry is expected to grow to approx INR 1098 bn by 2020, a CAGR of 15%. The number of TV households is expected to reach 200 million, with paid C&S subscriber base of approx 174 million, representing 87 percent of TV households.

TV advertising in India is expected to grow at a CAGR of 15 percent between 2015-2020, to reach INR 365 billion.

Subscription revenue for broadcasters is expected to grow at a CAGR of 18 % between 2015- 2020 touching INR 203 billion , driven by increase in the declared subscriber base in Phase III and IV , increase in Subscription revenues collected on the ground due to channel packaging and increasing HD Penetration , and increase in revenue share of Broadcasters in the subscription pie.

The domestic macro-economic conditions also remained stable. However, a second consecutive year of drought and a low increase in support prices have led to a sharply slower growing rural economy compared to earlier years

Transformation in MSO Operations

MSOs have spent considerable part of FY'16 in increasing revenues and realizations in DAS 1 / 2 markets and strengthening the relationships with LCOs & in digitization in DAS 3 cities. Currently, the large national MSOs are in process of establishing internal process & system to monetize the DAS 3 universe at much faster pace than what got executed in DAS 1 / 2 market. MSOs are investing in technology to improve addressability (to track addressable active STBs) and collections at LCO level

TRAI on MSO and LCO Agreements

To keep the process of timely implementation of DAS on track, in May 2015, The TRAI communicated a list of to have clear written agreements with all LCOs in place which conforming to TRAI's interconnect agreements. The agreements should clearly state the start and finish dates, revenue sharing settlement terms, processes for handling customer complaints, processes for inter-company disputes, and so forth. A copy of the agreement is required to be lodged with TRAI within 15 days and a receipt obtained. TRAI warns that its list of requirements must be observed, and signals cannot be delivered to LCOs without an agreement in place.

DEN Networks Ltd. – A Brief

DEN which was established in 2007 to provide cable network and services to consumers across India, is one of the leading cable TV MSOs in the country. On the journey to tap the opportunity in 'Home Entertainment', DEN enhanced its product portfolio offering high speed Broadband services with a vision to provide bundle services to its customers. At the end of year FY 16, the company had divested 55% stake in our football business for the consideration of Rs 43.3 crores. This was almost a cash breakeven exit for us. Further the Company has also sold its entire 50% stake in Star Den Media Services Pvt. Ltd (Star DEN) to Star India Pvt Ltd for a sales consideration of Rs 40.35 crs. Such Deconsolidation has resulted in net loss of Rs 5.01 crs in consolidated financial results and the same is disclosed in exceptional item. Further, DEN has increased its stake in Snap deal joint venture to 82.87%.

As your company, DEN, tries to improve monetization at levels based on packaging. Company had hired key managerial people in 2014-15 with backgrounds in TMT and consumer companies, marketing and consulting.

Cable Business

BROADBAND BUSINESS—SUPERFAST DEN BOOMBAND

The word 'BOOM' primarily represents explosion, ultra – fast, revolutionary, never seen before. That's how we were inspired to coin the term Boomband because broadband is for the ordinary. DEN Boomband is for the restless, impatient youth of our country who want to do everything just about 'now'. And this is possible with Boom band's hyper speeds of up to 100 Mbps. The service is currently available in parts of Delhi NCR and is in the process of scaling up within Delhi/ NCR and beyond.

DEN broadband services achieved 775,000 homes passed as on 31 March 2016. Over the course of the year, the cost per Home Pass has reduced substantially due to a number of re-engineering and procurement related initiatives. The benefit of conversions of the Home Passes have started to flow through and will continue in the following quarters as well. The company currently has a base of 95,000 broadband subscribers at the end of FY'15-16 and more than half of them come from non-DEN cable homes. In Q4 FY15-16, we undertook two important initiatives on the revenue side. We started sales through retail channel in Delhi. We have also launched a digital campaign at the center of which is our website. The website has world-class functionalities such as instantaneous feasibility check and contributes to more than 10% of Gross Additions within months of launch. On the usage side, we have seen a substantial jump in data consumption as well speed adoption. We have been able to monetize that increase and is reflected in an increasing ARPU trend that we have reported. Our consumer churn on the broadband business remains under 2% per month. We will continue to work towards the profitability of the broadband business through a combination of initiatives both on the revenue side as well as optimizing the operating costs. The performance in the last year has set up a rock solid platform for a rapid expansion of the broadband business.

DEN SNAPDEAL TV SHOP – GIVING A NEW PERSPECTIVE TO TELEVISION COMMERCE

In July 2016 DEN has also increased its stake from 50% to 82.87%, however Snap deal would continue to hold 17.13% equity. The JV is currently is clocking an annualized GMV of INR 240 Crores (at Mar'16 average booked GMV rate) and has 30% as repeat customers. The business has a reach of 52million homes. (Referred to in paragraph 1(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' of our report of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of DEN NETWORKS LIMITED ("the Company") as of 31 March, 2016 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on "the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31 March, 2016, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

The financial statements have been prepared on accrual basis under the historical cost convention. The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are consistent with those followed in the previous year.

2.2 Use of estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Indian GAAP requires the Management to make estimates and assumptions considered in the reported amounts of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) and the reported income and expenses during the year. The Management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Future results could differ due to these estimates and the differences between the actual results and the estimates are recognised in the periods in which the results are known / materialise.

2.3 Cash and cash equivalents (for purpose of Cash Flow Statement)

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term balances (with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition) and highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value.

2.4 Cash flow statement

The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated based on available information.

2.5 Depreciation and amortization

Depreciable amount for assets is the cost of an asset, or other amount substituted for cost, less its estimated residual value.

Depreciation on tangible fixed assets has been provided on the straight-line method as per the useful life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 except in respect of the following categories of assets, in whose case the life of the assets has been assessed as under based on technical advice, taking into account the nature of the asset, the estimated usage of the asset, the operating conditions of the asset, past history of replacement, anticipated technological changes, manufacturers warranties and maintenance support, etc.:

a) Headend and distribution equipment	6 to 15 years
b) Set Top Boxes (STBs)	8 years
c) Office and other equipment	3 to 10 years
d) Furniture and fixtures	6 years
e) Vehicles	6 years
f) Leasehold improvements	Lower of the useful life and the period of the lease
g) Fixed assets acquired through business purchase	5 years as estimated by an approved valuer
Intangible assets are amortised over their estimated useful life on straight line method as follows:
a) Goodwill	5 years
b) Distribution network rights	5 years
c) Software	5 years
d) License fee for internet service	Over the period of License Agreement
e) Non-compete fees	5 years

The estimated useful life of the intangible assets and the amortisation period are reviewed at the end of each financial year and the amortisation period is revised to reflect the changed pattern, if any.

2.6 Revenue recognition

i. Income from operations

1. Service revenue comprises subscription income from digital and analog subscribers, placement of channels, advertisement revenue, fees for rendering management, technical and consultancy services, feeder charges and other related services. Income from services is recognised upon completion of services as per the terms of contracts with the customers. Period based services are accrued and recognised pro-rata over the contractual period.
2. Activation fees on STBs is recognized on activation of boxes once issued to customers.
3. Amounts billed for services in accordance with contractual terms but where revenue is not recognised, have been classified as advance billing and disclosed under current liabilities.
4. Revenue from prepaid internet service plans, which are active at the end of accounting period, is recognised on time proportion basis.

ii. Sale of equipment

Revenue relating to sale of equipment is recognised, net of returns and trade discounts, on transfer of significant risks and rewards of ownership to the buyer, which generally coincides with the delivery of equipment to customers. Sales exclude sales tax and value added tax.

2.7 Other income

Interest income is accounted on accrual basis. Dividend income is accounted for when the right to receive it is established.

2.8 Tangible assets

Fixed assets are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation / amortisation and impairment losses, if any. The cost of fixed assets comprises its purchase price net of any trade discounts and rebates, any import duties and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from the tax authorities), any directly attributable expenditure on making the asset ready for its intended use and other incidental expenses. Subsequent expenditure on fixed assets after its purchase / completion is capitalised only if such expenditure results in an increase in the future benefits from such asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

Capital work-in-progress: Projects under which assets are not ready for their intended use and other capital work-in-progress are carried at cost, comprising direct cost, related incidental expenses and attributable interest.

2.9 Intangible assets

1. Intangible assets acquired in business acquisitions are stated at fair value as determined by the management of the Company on the basis of valuation by expert valuers, less accumulated amortisation.
2. Other intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition less accumulated amortisation. The actual cost capitalised includes purchase price, and all other attributable costs of bringing the assets to working condition for intended use.

2.10 Foreign currency transactions and translations

a. Initial recognition

Transactions in foreign currencies entered into by the Company are accounted at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction or at rates that closely approximate the rate at the date of the transaction.

b. Measurement at the balance sheet date

Foreign currency monetary items of the Company, outstanding at the balance sheet date are restated at the year-end rates. Non-monetary items of the Company are carried at historical cost.

c. Treatment of exchange differences

Exchange differences arising on settlement / restatement of short-term foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities of the Company are recognised as income or expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

d. Exchange difference on long-term foreign currency monetary items

The exchange differences arising on settlement / restatement of long-term foreign currency monetary items are capitalised as part of the depreciable fixed assets to which the monetary item relates and depreciated over the remaining useful life of such assets. If such monetary items do not relate to acquisition of depreciable fixed assets, the exchange difference is amortised over the maturity period / upto the date of settlement of such monetary items, whichever is earlier, and charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.11 Investments

Trade investments are investments made to enhance the Company's business interests. Investments are classified either as long term or current investments, based on management's intention at the time of purchase. Long-term investments are stated at cost less provision for other than temporary diminution in the carrying value, as determined separately for each investment. Current investments are stated at the lower of cost and fair value. The comparison of cost and fair value is done separately in respect of each category of investments.

2.12 Employee benefits

Employee benefits include provident fund, employee state insurance scheme, gratuity and compensated absences.

a. Defined contribution plans

The Company's contribution to provident fund and employee state insurance scheme are considered as defined contribution plans and are charged as an expense based on the amount of contribution required to be made and when services are rendered by the employees.

b. Defined benefit plans

For defined benefit plans in the form of gratuity, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each balance sheet date. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognised immediately to the extent that the benefits are already vested and otherwise is amortised on a straight-line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested. The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Balance Sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognised past service cost, as reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to past service cost, plus the present value of available refunds and reductions in future contributions to the schemes.

c. Short term employee benefits

The undiscounted amount of short term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange of services rendered by employees are recognised during the year when the employee renders the services. These benefits include salaries, bonus, leave travel allowance and performance incentives.

d. Long term employee benefits

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service are recognised as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation as at the balance sheet date less the fair value of the plan assets out of which the obligations are expected to be settled.

2.13 Employee share based payments

The Company has formulated Employee Stock Option Schemes (ESOS) in accordance with the SEBI (Employee Stock Option Scheme and Employee Stock Purchase Scheme) Guidelines, 1999 and SEBI (Share Based Employee Benefits) Regulations 2014. The Schemes provide for grant of options to employees of the Company and its subsidiaries to acquire equity shares of the Company that vest in a graded manner and that are to be exercised within a specified period. In accordance with the SEBI Guidelines; the excess, if any, of the closing market price on the day prior to the grant of the options under ESOS over the exercise price is amortised on a straight-line basis over the vesting period.

2.14 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs include interest, amortisation of ancillary costs incurred and exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the interest cost. Costs in connection with the borrowing of funds to the extent not directly related to the acquisition of qualifying assets are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss over the tenure of the loan.

2.15 Segment information

a. Business segments

The Company identifies primary segments based on the dominant source, nature of risks and returns and the internal organisation and management structure. The operating segments are the segments for which separate financial information is available and for which operating profit / loss amounts are evaluated regularly by the Executive Management in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance.

The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are in line with the accounting policies of the Company. Segment revenue, segment expenses, segment assets and segment liabilities have been identified to segments on the basis of their relationship to the operating activities of the segment.

Revenue, expenses, assets and liabilities which relate to the Company as a whole and are not allocable to segments on reasonable basis have been included under “unallocated revenue / expenses / assets / liabilities”. (See also note 28)

b. Geographical segments

Secondary segmental reporting is performed on the basis of the geographical location of customers i.e. within India and overseas.

2.16 Leases

Where the Company as a lessor leases assets under finance leases, such amounts are recognised as receivables at an amount equal to the net investment in the lease and the finance income is recognised based on a constant rate of return on the outstanding net investment.

Assets leased by the Company in its capacity as a lessee, where substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership vest in the Company are classified as finance leases. Such leases are capitalised at the inception of the lease at the lower of the fair value and the present value of the minimum lease payments and a liability is created for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each year.

Lease arrangements where the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset substantially vest with the lessor are recognised as operating leases. Lease rentals under operating leases are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

2.17 Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for share splits / reverse share splits and bonus shares, as appropriate.

2.18 Taxes on income

Current tax is the amount of tax payable on the taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the applicable tax rates and the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and other applicable tax laws.

Deferred tax is recognised on timing differences, being the differences between the taxable income and the accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted as at the reporting date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all timing differences. Deferred tax assets are recognised for timing differences of items other than unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward losses only to the extent that reasonable certainty exists that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which these can be realised. However, if there are unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses and items relating to capital losses, deferred tax assets are recognised only if there is virtual certainty supported by convincing evidence that there will be sufficient future taxable income available to realise the assets. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if such items relate to taxes on income levied by the same governing tax laws and the Company has a legally enforceable right for such set off. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date for their realisability.

Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws, which gives future economic benefits in the form of adjustment to future income tax liability, is considered as an asset if there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as an asset in the Balance Sheet when it is highly probable that future economic benefit associated with it will flow to the Company.

2.19 Impairment of assets

The carrying values of assets / cash generating units at each balance sheet date are reviewed for impairment if any indication of impairment exists. The following intangible assets are tested for impairment each financial year even if there is no indication that the asset is impaired: (a) an intangible asset that is not yet available for use; and (b) an intangible asset that is amortised over a period exceeding ten years from the date when the asset is available for use.

If the carrying amount of the assets exceed the estimated recoverable amount, an impairment is recognised for such excess amount. The impairment loss is recognised as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss, unless the asset is carried at revalued amount, in which case any impairment loss of the revalued asset is treated as a revaluation decrease to the extent a revaluation reserve is available for that asset.

The recoverable amount is the greater of the net selling price and their value in use. Value in use is arrived at by discounting the future cash flows to their present value based on an appropriate discount factor.

When there is indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset (other than a revalued asset) in earlier accounting periods no longer exists or may have decreased, such reversal of impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss, to the extent the amount was previously charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss. In case of revalued assets such reversal is not recognised.”

2.20 Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes. Contingent assets are not recognised in the financial statements.

2.21 Share issue expenses

Share issue expenses are adjusted against the Securities Premium Account as permissible under Section 52 of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent any balance is available for utilisation in the Securities Premium Account. Share issue expenses in excess of the balance in the Securities Premium Account is expensed in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.22 Service tax input credit

Service tax input credit is accounted for in the books in the period in which the underlying service received is accounted and when there is reasonable certainty in availing/ utilizing the credits.

2.23 Operating Cycle

Based on the nature of activities of the Company and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents, the Company has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of its assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

(Referred to in paragraph 1 under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the Standards on Auditing, prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors of the subsidiary companies, associate company and jointly controlled companies which is incorporated in India, in terms of their reports referred to in the Other Matters paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Holding Company, its subsidiary companies, its associate company and jointly controlled companies which are incorporated in India, have, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31 March, 2016, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

- ii. The financial statements of the Company and its subsidiary companies have been combined on a line-by-line basis by adding together like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses, after eliminating intra-group balances, intra-group transactions and resulting unrealised profits or losses, unless cost cannot be recovered.
- iii. Share of profit / loss, assets and liabilities in the jointly controlled entities, which are not subsidiaries, have been consolidated on a line-by-line basis by adding together the book values of like items of assets, liabilities, incomes and expenses on a proportionate basis to the extent of the Group's equity interest in such entity as per AS 27 Financial Reporting of Interests in Jointly controlled entities. The intra-group balances, intra-group transactions and unrealised profits or losses have been eliminated to the extent of the Group's share in the entity. of contribution required to be made and when services are rendered by the employees.

2. Defined benefit plans

For defined benefit plans in the form of gratuity, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each balance sheet date. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognised immediately to the extent that the benefits are already vested and otherwise is amortised on a straight-line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested. The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Balance Sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognised past service cost, as reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to past service cost, plus the present value of available refunds and reductions in future contributions to the schemes.

3. Short term employee benefits

The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the services rendered by employees are recognised during the year when the employees render the service. These benefits include performance incentive and compensated absences which are expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service. The cost of short-term compensated absences is accounted as under :

- (a) in case of accumulated compensated absences, when employees render the services that increase their entitlement of future compensated absences; and
- (b) in case of non-accumulating compensated absences, when the absences occur.

4. Long term employee benefits

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service are recognised as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation as at the Balance Sheet date less the fair value of the plan assets out of which the obligations are expected to be settled. Long Service Awards are recognised as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation as at the Balance Sheet date.

2.14 Employee share based payments

The Company has formulated Employee Stock Option Schemes (ESOS) in accordance with the SEBI (Employee Stock Option Scheme and Employee Stock Purchase Scheme) Guidelines, 1999. The Schemes provide for grant of options to employees of the Company and its subsidiaries to acquire equity shares of the Company that vest in a graded manner and that are to be exercised within a specified period. In accordance with the SEBI Guidelines; the excess, if any, of the closing market price on the day prior to the grant of the options under ESOS over the exercise price is amortised on a straight-line basis over the vesting period.

2.15 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs include interest, amortisation of ancillary costs incurred and exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the interest cost. Costs in connection with the borrowing of funds to the extent not directly related to the acquisition of qualifying assets are charged to the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss over the tenure of the loan.

2.16 Segment information

1. Business segments

The Group identifies primary segments based on the dominant source, nature of risks and returns and the internal organisation and management structure. The operating segments are the segments for which separate financial information is available and for which operating profit / loss amounts are evaluated regularly by the executive Management in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance.

The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are in line with the accounting policies of the Group. Segment revenue, segment expenses, segment assets and segment liabilities have been identified to segments on the basis of their relationship to the operating activities of the segment. Revenue, expenses, assets and liabilities which relate to the Group as a whole and are not allocable to segments on reasonable basis have been included under “unallocated revenue / expenses / assets / liabilities.”

2. Geographical segments

Secondary segmental reporting is performed on the basis of the geographical location of customers i.e. within India and overseas.

2.17 Leases

Where the Group as a lessor leases assets under finance leases, such amounts are recognised as receivables at an amount equal to the net investment in the lease and the finance income is recognised based on a constant rate of return on the outstanding net investment.

Assets leased by the Group in its capacity as a lessee, where substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership vest in the Group are classified as finance leases. Such leases are capitalised at the inception of the lease at the lower of the fair value and the present value of the minimum lease payments and a liability is created for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each year.

Lease arrangements where the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset substantially vest with the lessor are recognised as operating leases. Lease rentals under operating leases are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

2.18 Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for share splits / reverse share splits and bonus shares, as appropriate.

2.19 Taxes on income

Current tax is determined on the basis of taxable income and tax credits computed for each of the entities in the Group in accordance with the applicable tax rates and the provisions of Income Tax Act, 1961 and other applicable tax laws.

Deferred tax is recognised on timing differences, being the differences between the taxable income and the accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted as at the reporting date.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all timing differences. Deferred tax assets are recognised for timing differences of items other than unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward losses only to the extent that reasonable certainty exists that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which these can be realised. However, if there are unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses and items relating to capital losses, deferred tax assets are recognised only if there is virtual certainty supported by convincing evidence that there will be sufficient future taxable income available to realise the assets. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if such items relate to taxes on income levied by the same governing tax laws and the Company has a legally enforceable right for such set off. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date for their realisability.

Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws, which gives future economic benefits in the form of adjustment to future income tax liability, is considered as an asset if there is convincing evidence that the entity will pay normal income tax. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as an asset in the Consolidated Balance Sheet when it is highly probable that future economic benefit associated with it will flow to the entity.

Current and deferred tax relating to items directly recognised in reserves are recognised in reserves and not in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.20 Jointly controlled operations.

The financial statements of the Group reflect its share of the Assets, Liabilities, Income and Expenditure of the Jointly controlled operations which are accounted on the basis of the financial statements of the joint ventures on line-by-line basis with similar items in the Group's financial statements to the extent of the participating interest of the Group as per the Joint Venture Agreements.

2.21 Impairment of assets

The carrying values of assets / cash generating units at each balance sheet date are reviewed for impairment if any indication of impairment exists. If the carrying amount of the assets exceed the estimated recoverable amount, an impairment is recognised for such excess amount. The impairment loss is recognised as an expense in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, unless the asset is carried at revalued amount, in which case any impairment loss of the revalued asset is treated as a revaluation decrease to the extent a revaluation reserve is available for that asset.

The recoverable amount is the greater of the net selling price and their value in use. Value in use is arrived at by discounting the future cash flows to their present value based on an appropriate discount factor.

When there is indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset (other than a revalued asset) in earlier accounting periods no longer exists or may have decreased, such reversal of impairment loss is recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, to the extent the amount was previously charged to the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. In case of revalued assets such reversal is not recognised.

2.22 Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised when the Group has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes. Contingent assets are not recognised in the financial statements.

2.23 Share issue expenses

Share issue expenses are adjusted against the Securities Premium Account as permissible under Section 52 of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent any balance is available for utilisation in the Securities Premium Account. Share issue expenses in excess of the balance in the Securities Premium Account is expensed in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.24 Service tax input credit

Service tax input credit is accounted for in the books in the period in which the underlying service received is accounted and when there is reasonable certainty in availing/ utilizing the credits.

2.25 Operating Cycle

Based on the nature of activities of the Group and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents, the Group has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of its assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

CHAIRMAN SPEECH

Dear Shareholders,

We all continue to be excited with the huge opportunity for the cable & broadband business. With a strong and empowered leadership team, DEN is right there in exploiting this opportunity to maximize shareholder value and we welcome the coming year with Digitization as the focus.

The Indian Economy growth picked up in FY'14-15, inflation markedly declined, and the external position was comfortable, helped by positive policies and lower global oil prices. With a stable government and pro-growth policy reforms, India is expected to drive itself home through more and consistent GDP growth in the subsequent years.

The year 2014 has been a turning point for the media and entertainment industry in India many ways. One of the major highlights in 2014 was the announcement of 'Digital India: A programme to transform India into a digitally empowered society and knowledge economy' by the government. Another trending phenomenon is Internet-Of-Things (IOT) which aims to inter-connect household devices like TV, ACs, Microwaves, Fridge, Cameras etc. to provide remote access and control. All these are signs of a technical revolution and development in India which can be achieved only through Digitization.

The rollout of digital cable STBs in Phases I and II cities is now complete and the stage is set for introduction of new age facilities like channel packaging, online bill payment, HD channels, Broadband etc.

With successful completion of Phases I and II, the roadmap is clear for Phases III and IV. Government support for Digital India provides a conducive environment for timely completion of Phases III and IV. We are adequately prepared and well capitalized for the opportunity and are consolidating operations, setting up business processes and systems, working on STB procurement and putting logistics in place to handle the huge scale STB roll out.

Broadband is another huge opportunity area. Wired broadband connections in the country are expected to grow up from 20 million in 2014 to 32 million in 2019. Globally, DOCSIS (Data Over Cable Service Interface Specification) is the predominant technology used for cable broadband and has higher speed and lower investment advantage over the DSL (Digital Subscriber Line) technologies used by telecom operators which require significantly less investment, but had speed limitations. We have soft launched our high speed broadband services and have crossed 3.3L Homes Passed with ~23,000 broadband subscribers.

We also forayed into TV Shopping and Soccer this fiscal year. TV shopping in India is almost a 4,000-5,000 crore market. Our TV shopping JV between DEN and Snapdeal brings tremendous synergies because we are able to leverage our reach in distribution and our capabilities on the video side to drive the front end activities and Snapdeal's brand merchandising and strong back-end allows state of the art infrastructure. The JV has a reach of more than 25m Homes and has started clocking annualised GMV of more than ~120 Crores.

On the soccer side, DEN, through its wholly owned subsidiary, acquired Delhi Dynamos FC, one of the most popular teams of the ISL with a fan base of over 425,000 (based on Facebook likes) and over 29,000 Twitter followers. The inaugural season of the Indian Super League (ISL) generated huge audience interest with overall season viewership reaching 429 million. The ISL also became Asia's No.1 League and the world's No. 4 League by stadium attendance attracting an average of 26,000+ spectators every match.

I would like to place on record my sincere appreciation to the Board of Directors for their guidance. I would also like to express my gratitude to all our stakeholders for their continuing faith in DEN.

With best wishes,

Sameer Manchanda
Chairman Managing Director

Digital India – Broadband Opportunity for Cable MSOs

In 2014 India topped as the world's fastest growing smartphone market. Fuelled by the availability of low-cost smartphones and dropping data plan tariff the absolute number of internet connections is at a record high, but overall internet penetration stands at about 12%, which is still lower compared to internet penetration across other countries. (Singapore 81%, Hong Kong 80%, Russia 62%, Brazil 52%, Mexico 43%, World Average 39%).

India ranks poorly at #125 with just about 1% fixed broadband internet penetration (compared to 10% globally, 9% in Brazil, 15% in Russia, 32% in Hong Kong, 26% in Singapore) and internet users are predominantly on low speed network (<512 KBPs). India's poor rankings in world of fixed internet, poor penetration ratio and low speed internet offerings provide huge growth opportunities for cable MSOs.

Cable or the wired platform has the capacity to provide double-play services of video and high-speed broadband internet. MSOs have started increasing their efforts on leveraging cable infrastructure to capitalize on the potential for broadband growth and opportunity. Of the 252 million internet connections in India, only 15 million are on wire-line out of which cable has ~5% share. Increased focus on broadband can tap significant latent demand in the home broadband segment for the MSOs.

Globally, DOCSIS is the predominant technology used for cable broadband and has higher speed and lower investment advantage over DSL. Currently, DSL is the primary technology in India, accounting for ~70% of fixed broadband connections in 2014. This could change significantly, if MSOs get their broadband plans effectively implemented, given that the last mile infrastructure is largely in place for cable broadband, while telecom companies have to invest heavily in fiber to be able to provide speeds comparable to that of cable broadband.

As per MPA analysis, cable's share of the fixed broadband market is expected to grow from 6% in 2013 to 13% by 2023.

Digital India – Digitization Driving Transformation in the Cable Television Ecosystem

Television remains to be vital part of Indian Media and Entertainment (M&E) industry and constitutes around 45% of the M&E industry. India's television industry is at an important inflection point with digitalization, investment and consolidation set to boost value creation across the ecosystem, benefiting all stakeholders.

Indian cable industry is fragmented one with about 6,000 MSOs. However, the DAS implementation has led to start of an era of consolidation. Currently, the Top 5 MSOs control about 50% of the industry share. With phase 3 and 4 on cards, further consolidation is expected to happen in next 2 years following the global trends (top 5 players control 85% market in USA, top 4 control 80% in Taiwan, Liberty controls 95% in UK, top 3 control 63% in Japan)

Digitization was an important step in process of providing transparency in the television value chain and to facilitate better monetization: The rollout of digital cable STBs in DAS Phase 1 and 2 markets were largely achieved in calendar year 2013. The Ministry of Information and Broadcasting extended the deadlines for DAS Phase 3 and 4 implementations from the earlier combined deadline of December 2014 to December 2015 and December 2016 respectively. The deadline extension has provided enough time for MSOs and LCOs to streamline DAS phase 1 and 2 and to roll out the implementation of STBs in DAS phase 3 and 4 markets including STBs procurement, setting up digital headends, signing of agreements with broadcasters, and implementing channel packages. The fiscal year 2014-15 witnessed the completion of KYC form and consumer data for B2C billing readiness billing, thereby moving to sharing of subscription revenues among the television value chain.

HD to Contribute in Subscription Revenue Growth: The pay-TV subscription revenues are expected to grow at a 2013-2018 CAGR of 11% with packages roll out across pay-TV platforms. The demand for HD channels and ad-free premium HD channels are also expected to contribute to growth in subscription revenues. Currently, there are about 50 HD channels available in India. Of the 8 million panel televisions sold in India in 2014, approximately 50% were HD

TVs and the number os expected to increase to 80% by 2019. Moreover, the fact that DTH and cable operators are more than happy to increase their HD bouquet, the growth story for HD viewing and consumption in India has only just begun.

Digital cable subscribers are expected to reach to 904 million by end of 2019, up from 29 million at end of 2014. The major increase will take place at end of 2015 and 2016 when phase 3 and 4 gets implemented respectively. Also, the penetration of digital cable subscribers in total Pay TV Subscribers is expected to go to 54% by end of 2019 form 19% in 2013.

Transformation in MSO Operations – On a Journey to shift to B2C from B2B

With rescheduling of digitization in DAS Phase 3 and 4 markets, MSOs have spent considerable part of FY'14 in stabilizing their operations in DAS phase 1 and 2 markets, increasing revenues and realizations, and strengthening the relationships with LCOs. Currently, the large national MSOs are in process of establishing internal processes in order to make a shift from B2B to B2C business. MSOs are investing in technology to improve addressability (to track addressable active STBs) and collections at LCO Level.

TRAI on MSO and LCO Agreements

TRAI has formally written to all MSOs, in May 2015, with a list of new rules to be followed strictly. The list of rules requires MSO and LCO to have clear written agreements in place and which conform to TRAI's interconnect agreements, with clear start and finish dates, revenue shares stated, settlement terms, processes for handling customer complaints, processes for inter-company disputes, and so forth. A copy of the agreement is required to be lodged with TRAI within 15 days and a receipt obtained. TRAI warns that its list of requirements must be observed, and signals cannot be delivered to LCOs without an agreement in place.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Consolidated Financial Highlights

Consolidated revenues increased INR 13 Crore in the year to reach INR 1,130 Crore for the year ended 31st March 2015. On a like to like basis (i.e. excluding the LCO share) DEN recorded revenues of INR 1,067 Crore in FY14-15 vs INR 1,082 Crore in FY'14. The decline in revenues was primarily on account of discontinuation of distribution business by Media Pro (Joint Venture between Star DEN and Zee) in FY'15 where company generated revenues of INR 19 Crore in FY'15 compared to INR 57 Crore in the earlier year. The decline was partially offset by increased revenues from broadband and from new businesses including TV Commerce and Soccer. Consolidated EBITDA lowered to INR 92 Crore in FY'15 vs INR 302 Crore on account of 25% increase in content costs in cable business and due to investment phase in cable DAS 3 and 4 markets, broadband, and new businesses, soccer and TV commerce, resulting into losses. The decline in PBT was on account of lower EBITDA and increased depreciation costs, partially offset by increase in treasury income. Depreciation and Amortization costs were higher by INR 39 Crore or 26% over the last year costs of INR 147 Crore.

All these factors lead a net loss of INR -144 Crore vs INR 38 Crore in the earlier year. However, the company reported a positive Cash PAT (Net Income plus Depreciation) of INR 42 Crore in FY'15.

The capital expenditure for the full year FY'15 was INR 304 Crore including INR 244 Crore on cable business and INR 57 Crore on broadband business.

The company was graded in 'A' category for long term and A1 for short term with a 'Stable' outlook by the credit rating agency ICRA.

Cable Business Financial Highlights

The year saw the delay in implementation of DAS Phase 3 and 4 to 31 December 2015 and 31 December 2016 respectively. However, continuing with plans to digitize the analog cable subscriber base, DEN seeded additional one million STBs in FY'14-15. This takes the digital subscribers base of the company to 7 million out of a total 13 million subscribers. The company also remained focused on improving subscription revenues and net realizations in DAS 1 and 2 cities which resulted in 33% increments in subscription revenues per box in DAS 1 and 2 Markets. The Blended Revenue per Box (Billing Less Applicable Taxes) in DAS 1 and 2 markets increased from INR 58 in FY'14 to INR 77 in FY'15. By the end of the year, 9 cities of DAS markets generated net realization (Collection Less Taxes) of more than INR 80 per STB in Q4 FY'15 compared to 3 cities in year ago period.

Cable business revenues increased 3.5% in FY'15 to INR 1,093 Crore from INR 1,055 Crore in last year. On a like to like basis (excluding LCO Share) revenues increased by 0.9% in FY'15 to INR 1,030 Crore vs INR 1,021 Crore last year. Revenues excluding activation income and LCO Share increased 11.5% to INR 966 Crore in FY'15 from INR 866 Crore in FY'14. The increase was driven by 25% jump in subscription income in FY'15 to INR 459 Crore from INR 368 Crore in earlier year. Subscription income contributed 48% of total revenues (excluding activation) in FY'15 compared to 42% in FY'14. The detailed breakup of revenues is as below:

	FY'14	FY'15
Subscription*	368	459
Placement	465	474
Activation	155	64
Others	33	33

*Excluding LCO Share

EBITDA for the cable business declined to INR 187 Crore in FY'15 compared to INR 301 Crore in earlier period due to 25% increase in content costs (CPS impact of Star and ZEE etc.) and increase in lease line costs, cable network and maintenance expenses and other operational cost due to investments in DAS phase 3 and 4 markets where the company will start generating money post sunset dates. The company witnessed EBITDA Margin (excluding activation) of ~20% in phase 1 and 2 markets despite a significant pressure on content cost from broadcasters.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

TO THE MEMBERS OF DEN NETWORKS LIMITED

REPORT ON THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

We have audited the accompanying standalone financial statements of DEN Networks Limited ("the Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at 31st March, 2015, the Statement of Profit and Loss, the Cash Flow Statement for the year then ended, and a summary of the significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

MANAGEMENT'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Act, read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

AUDITORS' RESPONSIBILITY

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these standalone financial statements based on our audit.

We have taken into account the provisions of the Act, the accounting and auditing standards and matters which are required to be included in the audit report under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing specified under Section 143 (10) of the Act. Those Standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and the disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures elected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal financial control relevant to the Company's preparation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on whether the Company has in place an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and the operating effectiveness of such controls. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of the accounting policies used and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates made by the Company's Directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the standalone financial statements.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid standalone financial statements give the information required by the Act in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at 31st March, 2015, and its loss and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

We draw attention to note 43 of the standalone financial statements wherein it is stated that the Digital Addressable System (DAS) subscription fee has not yet been finalised and the revenue on account of the same has been recognised based on certain estimates which in the management's view are reasonable.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

The financial statements have been prepared on accrual basis under the historical cost convention. The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are consistent with those followed in the previous year.

2.2 Use of estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Indian GAAP requires the Management to make estimates and assumptions considered in the reported amounts of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) and the reported income and expenses during the year. The Management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Future results could differ due to these estimates and the differences between the actual results and the estimates are recognised in the periods in which the results are known / materialise.

2.3 Cash and cash equivalents (for purpose of Cash Flow Statement)

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term balances (with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition) and highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value.

2.4 Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using indirect method, whereby profit/ (loss) before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated based on available information.

2.5 Depreciation and amortization

Depreciable amount for assets is the cost of an asset, or other amount substituted for cost, less its estimated residual value.

Depreciation on tangible fixed assets has been provided on the straight line method as per the useful life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 except in respect of the following categories of assets, in whose case the life of the assets has been assessed as under based on technical advice, taking into account the nature of the asset, the estimated usage of the asset, the operating conditions of the asset, past history of replacement, anticipated technological changes, manufacturers warranties and maintenance support, etc.:

Headend and distribution equipment	6 to 15 years
Set Top Boxes (STBs)	8 years
Office and other equipment	3 to 10 years
Furniture and fixtures	6 years
Vehicles	6 years
Leasehold improvements	Lower of the useful life and the period of the lease
Fixed assets acquired through business purchase	5 years as estimated by an approved valuer

Intangible assets are amortised over their estimated useful life on straight line method as follows:
Goodwill	5 years
Distribution network rights	5 years
Software	5 years
License fee for internet service	Over the period of License Agreement
Non-compete fees	5 years

The estimated useful life of the intangible assets and the amortisation period are reviewed at the end of each financial year and the amortisation period is revised to reflect the changed pattern, if any.

2.6 Revenue recognition

i. Income from operations

1. Service revenue comprises subscription income from digital and analog subscribers, placement of channels, advertisement revenue, fees for rendering management, technical and consultancy services and other related services. Income from services is recognised upon completion of services as per the terms of contracts with the customers. Period based services are accrued and recognised pro-rata over the contractual period.
2. Activation fees on STBs is recognized on activation of boxes once issued to customers.
3. Amounts billed for services in accordance with contractual terms but where revenue is not recognised, have been classified as advance billing and disclosed under current liabilities.
4. Revenue from prepaid internet service plans, which are active at the end of accounting period, is recognised on time proportion basis.

ii. Sale of equipment

Revenue for sale of equipment is recognised on delivery to customers which coincide with transfer of significant risks and rewards of ownership of the equipment. The time of transfer and the amount is determined based on the arrangement between the parties involved.

In case of VAT collected on sales, exclusive method is followed, where sales and expenditure will not include VAT. VAT collected is disclosed under current liabilities and not routed through Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.7 Other income

1. Profit on sale of investments in mutual funds is recorded on transfer of risk and rewards from the Company and is determined as the difference between the sales price and the carrying value of the investment.
2. Interest income is accounted on accrual basis. Dividend income is accounted for when the right to receive it is established.

2.8 Tangible assets

Fixed assets are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation / amortisation and impairment losses, if any. The cost of fixed assets comprises its purchase price net of any trade discounts and rebates, any import duties and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from the tax authorities), any directly attributable expenditure on making the asset ready for its intended use and other incidental expenses. Subsequent expenditure on fixed assets after its purchase / completion is capitalised only if such expenditure results in an increase in the future benefits from such asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

Capital work-in-progress: Projects under which assets are not ready for their intended use and other capital work-in-progress are carried at cost, comprising direct cost, related incidental expenses and attributable interest.

2.9 Intangible assets

1. Intangible assets acquired in business acquisitions are stated at fair value as determined by the management of the Company on the basis of valuation by expert valuers, less accumulated amortisation.
2. Other intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition less accumulated amortisation. The actual cost capitalised includes purchase price, and all other attributable costs of bringing the assets to working condition for intended use.

2.10 Foreign currency transactions and translations

a. Initial recognition

Transactions in foreign currencies entered into by the Company are accounted at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction or at rates that closely approximate the rate at the date of the transaction.

b. Measurement at the balance sheet date

Foreign currency monetary items of the Company, outstanding at the balance sheet date are restated at the year-end rates. Non-monetary items of the Company are carried at historical cost.

c. Treatment of exchange differences

Exchange differences arising on settlement / restatement of short-term foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities of the Company are recognised as income or expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

d. Exchange difference on long-term foreign currency monetary items

The exchange differences arising on settlement / restatement of long-term foreign currency monetary items are capitalised as part of the depreciable fixed assets to which the monetary item relates and depreciated over the remaining useful life of such assets. If such monetary items do not relate to acquisition of depreciable fixed assets, the exchange difference is amortised over the maturity period / upto the date of settlement of such monetary items, whichever is earlier, and charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.11 Investments

Trade investments are investments made to enhance the Company's business interests. Investments are classified either as long term or current investments, based on management's intention at the time of purchase. Long-term investments are stated at cost less provision for other than temporary diminution in the carrying value, as determined separately for each investment. Current investments are stated at the lower of cost and fair value. The comparison of cost and fair value is done separately in respect of each category of investments.

2.12 Employee benefits

Employee benefits include provident fund, employee state insurance scheme, gratuity and compensated absences.

a. Defined contribution plans

The Company's contribution to provident fund and employee state insurance scheme are considered as defined contribution plans and are charged as an expense based on the amount of contribution required to be made and when services are rendered by the employees.

b. Defined benefit plans

For defined benefit plans in the form of gratuity, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each balance sheet date. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognised immediately to the extent that the benefits are already vested and otherwise is amortised on a straight-line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested. The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Balance Sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognised past service cost, as reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to past service cost, plus the present value of available refunds and reductions in future contributions to the schemes.

c. Short term employee benefits

The undiscounted amount of short term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange of services rendered by employees are recognised during the year when the employee renders the services. These benefits include salaries, bonus, leave travel allowance and performance incentives.

d. Long term employee benefits

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service are recognised as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation as at the balance sheet date less the fair value of the plan assets out of which the obligations are expected to be settled.

2.13 Employee share based payments

The Company has formulated Employee Stock Option Schemes (ESOS) in accordance with the SEBI (Employee Stock Option Scheme and Employee Stock Purchase Scheme) Guidelines, 1999 and SEBI (Share Based Employee Benefits) Regulations 2014. The Schemes provide for grant of options to employees of the Company and its subsidiaries to acquire equity shares of the Company that vest in a graded manner and that are to be exercised within a specified period. In accordance with the SEBI Guidelines; the excess, if any, of the closing market price on the day prior to the grant of the options under ESOS over the exercise price is amortised on a straight-line basis over the vesting period.

The Company has constituted Employee Stock Option Plan 2010 ("ESOP 2010") and Employee Stock Option Plan 2014 ("ESOP 2014"). Employee Stock Options granted on or after 1 April, 2005 are accounted under the 'Intrinsic Value Method' stated in the Guidance Note on Employee Share Based Payments issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

2.14 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs include interest, amortisation of ancillary costs incurred and exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the interest cost. Costs in connection with the borrowing of funds to the extent not directly related to the acquisition of qualifying assets are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss over the tenure of the loan.

2.15 Segment information

a. Business segments

The Company identifies primary segments based on the dominant source, nature of risks and returns and the internal organisation and management structure. The operating segments are the segments for which separate financial information is available and for which operating profit / loss amounts are evaluated regularly by the Executive Management in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance.

The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are in line with the accounting policies of the Company. Segment revenue, segment expenses, segment assets and segment liabilities have been identified to segments on the basis of their relationship to the operating activities of the segment.

Revenue, expenses, assets and liabilities which relate to the Company as a whole and are not allocable to segments on reasonable basis have been included under "unallocated revenue / expenses / assets / liabilities". (See also note 27)

b. Geographical segments

Secondary segmental reporting is performed on the basis of the geographical location of customers i.e. within India and overseas.

2.16 Leases

Where the Company as a lessor leases assets under finance leases, such amounts are recognised as receivables at an amount equal to the net investment in the lease and the finance income is recognised based on a constant rate of return on the outstanding net investment.

Assets leased by the Company in its capacity as a lessee, where substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership vest in the Company are classified as finance leases. Such leases are capitalised at the inception of the lease at the lower of the fair value and the present value of the minimum lease payments and a liability is created for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each year.

Lease arrangements where the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset substantially vest with the lessor are recognised as operating leases. Lease rentals under operating leases are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

2.17 Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for share splits / reverse share splits and bonus shares, as appropriate.

2.18 Taxes on income

Current tax is the amount of tax payable on the taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the applicable tax rates and the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and other applicable tax laws.

Deferred tax is recognised on timing differences, being the differences between the taxable income and the accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted as at the reporting date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all timing differences. Deferred tax assets are recognised for timing differences of items other than unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward losses only to the extent that reasonable certainty exists that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which these can be realised. However, if there are unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses and items relating to capital losses, deferred tax assets are recognised only if there is virtual certainty supported by convincing evidence that there will be sufficient future taxable income available to realise the assets. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if such items relate to taxes on income levied by the same governing tax laws and the Company has a legally enforceable right for such set off. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date for their realisability.

Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws, which gives future economic benefits in the form of adjustment to future income tax liability, is considered as an asset if there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as an asset in the Balance Sheet when it is highly probable that future economic benefit associated with it will flow to the Company.

2.19 Impairment of assets

The carrying values of assets / cash generating units at each balance sheet date are reviewed for impairment if any indication of impairment exists. If the carrying amount of the assets exceed the estimated recoverable amount, an impairment is recognised for such excess amount. The impairment loss is recognised as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss, unless the asset is carried at revalued amount, in which case any impairment loss of the revalued asset is treated as a revaluation decrease to the extent a revaluation reserve is available for that asset.

The recoverable amount is the greater of the net selling price and their value in use. Value in use is arrived at by discounting the future cash flows to their present value based on an appropriate discount factor.

When there is indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset (other than a revalued asset) in earlier accounting periods no longer exists or may have decreased, such reversal of impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss, to the extent the amount was previously charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss. In case of revalued assets such reversal is not recognised.

2.20 Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes. Contingent assets are not recognised in the financial statements.

2.21 Share issue expenses

Share issue expenses are adjusted against the Securities Premium Account as permissible under Section 52 of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent any balance is available for utilisation in the Securities Premium Account. Share issue expenses in excess of the balance in the Securities Premium Account is expensed in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.22 Service tax input credit

Service tax input credit is accounted for in the books in the period in which the underlying service received is accounted and when there is reasonable certainty in availing/ utilizing the credits.

2.23 Operating Cycle

Based on the nature of activities of the Company and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents, the Company has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of its assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

2. BASIS OF CONSOLIDATION AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

2.1 Basis of accounting and preparation of consolidated financial statements

The consolidated financial statements of the Company, its subsidiaries and jointly controlled entities (together the 'Group') have been prepared in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in India (Indian GAAP) to comply with the Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013, read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 and the relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the 2013 Act") / Companies Act, 1956 ("the 1956 Act"), as applicable. The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on accrual basis under the historical cost convention. The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are consistent with those followed in the previous year.

2.2 Principles of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements relate to Den Networks Limited (the 'Company'), its subsidiary companies and jointly controlled entities. The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the following basis:

- a. The financial statements of the subsidiary companies and jointly controlled entities used in the consolidation are drawn up to the same reporting date as that of the Company i.e., 31st March, 2015.
- b. The financial statements of the Company and its subsidiary companies have been combined on a line-by-line basis by adding together like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses, after eliminating intra-group balances, intra-group transactions and resulting unrealised profits or losses, unless cost cannot be recovered.
- c. Share of profit / loss, assets and liabilities in the jointly controlled entities, which are not subsidiaries, have been consolidated on a line-by-line basis by adding together the book values of like items of assets, liabilities, incomes and expenses on a proportionate basis to the extent of the Group's equity interest in such entity as per AS 27 Financial Reporting of Interests in Joint Ventures. The intra-group balances, intra-group transactions and unrealised profits or losses have been eliminated to the extent of the Group's share in the entity. Jointly controlled entities that are considered subsidiaries under AS 21 Consolidated Financial Statements are consolidated similar to the manner of consolidating subsidiaries (Refer (ii) above) and the share of interest of the other ventures in such entities is included as part of minority interest.
- d. The excess of cost to the Group of its investments in the subsidiary companies / jointly controlled entities over its share of equity of the subsidiary companies / jointly controlled entities, at the dates on which the investments in the subsidiary companies / jointly controlled entities were made, is recognised as 'Goodwill' being an asset in the consolidated financial statements and is tested for impairment on annual basis. On the other hand, where the share of equity in the subsidiary companies / jointly controlled entities as on the date of investment is in excess of cost of investments of the Group, it is recognised as 'Capital Reserve' and shown under the head 'Reserves and Surplus', in the consolidated financial statements. The 'Goodwill' / 'Capital Reserve' is determined separately for each subsidiary company / jointly controlled entity and such amounts are not set off between different entities.

- e. Minority Interest in the net assets of the consolidated subsidiaries consist of the amount of equity attributable to the minority shareholders at the date on which investments in the subsidiary companies were made and further movements in their share in the equity, subsequent to the dates of investments. Net profit / loss for the year of the subsidiaries attributable to minority interest is identified and adjusted against the profit after tax of the Group in order to arrive at the income attributable to shareholders of the Company.
- f. Goodwill arising on consolidation is not amortised but tested for impairment.
- g. Following subsidiary companies and jointly controlled entities have been considered in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements:

- h. The Company has consolidated the financial statements, of five subsidiary companies based on the financial statements as certified by the management of the subsidiary companies. These have not been audited by the statutory auditors of these entities. These financial statements reflect total assets of Rs. 636.57 million as at 31st March, 2015, total revenues of Rs. 402.06 million, net cash inflows amounting to Rs. 8.90 million and profit after tax amounting to Rs 8.91 million for the year ended on that date as considered in the consolidated financial statements. The management of the Holding Company is of the view that the adjustments, if any, arising out of the audit of the financial statements of these subsidiary companies will not have a material impact on the Consolidated Financial Statements.

2.3 Use of estimates

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with Indian GAAP requires the Management to make estimates and assumptions considered in the reported amounts of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) and the reported income and expenses during the year. The Management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Future results could differ due to these estimates and the differences between the actual results and the estimates are recognised in the periods in which the results are known / materialise.

2.4 Cash and cash equivalents (for purpose of Cash Flow Statement)

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term balances (with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition) and highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value.

2.5 Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit / (loss) before extraordinary items and tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Group are segregated based on the available information.

2.6 Depreciation and amortisation

Depreciable amount for assets is the cost of an asset, or other amount substituted for cost, less its estimated residual value.

Depreciation on tangible fixed assets of the Company, its India subsidiaries and jointly controlled entities has been provided on the straight-line method as per the useful life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 except in respect of the following categories of assets, in whose case the life of the assets has been assessed as under based on technical advice, taking into account the nature of the asset, the estimated usage of the asset, the operating conditions of the asset, past history of replacement, anticipated technological changes, manufacturers warranties and maintenance support, etc:

Building	60 years
Headend and distribution equipment	6 to 15 years
Set Top Boxes (STBs)	8 years
Office and other equipment	3 to 10 years
Furniture and fixtures	6 years
Vehicles	6 years
Leasehold improvements	Lower of the useful life and the period of the lease
Fixed assets acquired through	5 years as business purchase estimated by an approved valuer
Intangible assets are amortised over their estimated useful life on straight line method as follows:
Goodwill	5 years
Distribution network rights	5 years
Software	5 years
License fee for internet	Over the period service of license Agreement
Non-compete fees	5 years

The estimated useful life of the intangible assets and the amortisation period are reviewed at the end of each financial year and the amortisation period is revised to reflect the changed pattern, if any.

2.7 Revenue recognition

i. Income from operations

1. Service revenue comprises subscription income from digital and analog subscribers, placement of channels, advertisement revenue, fees for rendering management, technical and consultancy services and other related services. Income from services is recognised upon completion of services as per the terms of contracts with the customers. Period based services are accrued and recognised pro-rata over the contractual period.
2. Activation fees on STBs is recognised on activation of boxes once issued to customers.
3. Amounts billed for services in accordance with contractual terms but where revenue is not recognised, have been classified as advance billing and disclosed under current liabilities.
4. Revenue from prepaid internet service plans, which are active at the end of accounting period, is recognised on time proportion basis.
5. Commission income is recognised based on the terms of the agreement.

ii. Sale of equipment

Revenue for sale of equipment is recognised on delivery to customers which coincide with transfer of significant risks and rewards of ownership of the equipment. The time of transfer and the amount is determined based on the arrangement between the parties involved.

In case of VAT collected on sales, exclusive method is followed, where sales and expenditure will not include VAT. VAT collected is disclosed under current liabilities and not routed through Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.8 Other income

1. Profit on sale of investments in mutual funds is recorded on transfer of risk and rewards from the Group and is determined as the difference between the sales price and the carrying value of the investment.
2. Interest income is accounted on accrual basis. Dividend income is accounted for when the right to receive it is established.

2.9 Tangible assets

Fixed assets are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation / amortisation and impairment losses, if any. The cost of fixed assets comprises its purchase price net of any trade discounts and rebates, any import duties and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from the tax authorities), any directly attributable expenditure on making the asset ready for its intended use and other incidental expenses. Subsequent expenditure on fixed assets after its purchase / completion is capitalised only if such expenditure results in an increase in the future benefits from such asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

Capital work-in-progress: Projects under which assets are not ready for their intended use and other capital work-in-progress are carried at cost, comprising direct cost, related incidental expenses and attributable interest.

2.10 Intangible assets

1. Intangible assets acquired in business acquisitions are stated at fair value as determined by the management of the Group on the basis of valuation by expert valuers, less accumulated amortisation.
2. Other intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition less accumulated amortisation. The actual cost capitalised includes purchase price, and all other attributable costs of bringing the assets to working condition for intended use.

2.11 Foreign currency transactions and translations

a. Initial recognition

Transactions in foreign currencies entered into by the Group are accounted at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction or at rates that closely approximate the rate at the date of the transaction.

b. Measurement at the balance sheet date

Foreign currency monetary items of the Group, outstanding at the balance sheet date are restated at the year-end rates. Non-monetary items of the Group are carried at historical cost.

c. Treatment of exchange differences

Exchange differences arising on settlement / restatement of short-term foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities of the Group are recognised as income or expense in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

d. Exchange difference on long-term foreign currency monetary items

The exchange differences arising on settlement / restatement of long-term foreign currency monetary items are capitalised as part of the depreciable fixed assets to which the monetary item relates and depreciated over the remaining useful life of such assets. If such monetary items do not relate to acquisition of depreciable fixed assets, the exchange difference is amortised over the maturity period / upto the date of settlement of such monetary items, whichever is earlier, and charged to the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.12 Investments

Trade investments are investments made to enhance the Group's business interests. Investments are classified either as long term or current investments, based on management's intention at the time of purchase. Long-term investments are stated at cost less provision for other than temporary diminution in the carrying value, as determined separately for each investment. Current investments are stated at the lower of cost and fair value. The comparison of cost and fair value is done separately in respect of each category of investments.

2.13 Employee benefits

Employee benefits include provident fund, employee state insurance scheme, gratuity and compensated absences.

a. Defined contribution plans

The Group's contribution to provident fund and employee state insurance scheme are considered as defined contribution plans and are charged as an expense based on the amount of contribution required to be made and when services are rendered by the employees.

b. Defined benefit plans

For defined benefit plans in the form of gratuity, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each balance sheet date. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognised immediately to the extent that the benefits are already vested and otherwise is amortised on a straight-line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested. The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Balance Sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognised past service cost, as reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to past service cost, plus the present value of available refunds and reductions in future contributions to the schemes.

c. Short term employee benefits

The undiscounted amount of short term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange of services rendered by employees are recognised during the year when the employee renders the services. These benefits include salaries, bonus, leave travel allowance and performance incentives.

d. Long term employee benefits

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service are recognised as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation as at the balance sheet date less the fair value of the plan assets out of which the obligations are expected to be settled.

2.14 Employee share based payments

The Group has formulated Employee Stock Option Schemes (ESOS) in accordance with the SEBI (Employee Stock Option Scheme and Employee Stock Purchase Scheme) Guidelines, 1999 and SEBI (Share Based Employee Benefits) Regulations 2014. The Schemes provide for grant of options to employees of the Company and its subsidiaries to acquire equity shares of the Group that vest in a graded manner and that are to be exercised within a specified period. In accordance with the SEBI Guidelines; the excess, if any, of the closing market price on the day prior to the grant of the options under ESOS over the exercise price is amortised on a straight-line basis over the vesting period.

The Company has constituted Employee Stock Option Plan 2010 ("ESOP 2010") and Employee Stock Option Plan 2014 ("ESOP 2014"). Employee Stock Options granted on or after 1 April, 2005 are accounted under the 'Intrinsic Value Method' stated in the Guidance Note on Employee Share Based Payments issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

2.15 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs include interest, amortisation of ancillary costs incurred and exchange differences arising from foreign currency borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the interest cost. Costs in connection with the borrowing of funds to the extent not directly related to the acquisition of qualifying assets are charged to the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss over the tenure of the loan.

2.16 Segment informationa. Business segments

The Group identifies primary segments based on the dominant source, nature of risks and returns and the internal organisation and management structure. The operating segments are the segments for which separate financial information is available and for which operating profit / loss amounts are evaluated regularly by the executive Management in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance.

The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are in line with the accounting policies of the Group. Segment revenue, segment expenses, segment assets and segment liabilities have been identified to segments on the basis of their relationship to the operating activities of the segment.

Revenue, expenses, assets and liabilities which relate to the Group as a whole and are not allocable to segments on reasonable basis have been included under "unallocated revenue / expenses / assets / liabilities". (See also note 28)

b. Geographical segments

Secondary segmental reporting is performed on the basis of the geographical location of customers i.e. within India and overseas.

2.17 Leases

Where the Group as a lessor leases assets under finance leases, such amounts are recognised as receivables at an amount equal to the net investment in the lease and the finance income is recognised based on a constant rate of return on the outstanding net investment.

Assets leased by the Group in its capacity as a lessee, where substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership vest in the Group are classified as finance leases. Such leases are capitalised at the inception of the lease at the lower of the fair value and the present value of the minimum lease payments and a liability is created for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each year.

Lease arrangements where the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset substantially vest with the lessor are recognised as operating leases. Lease rentals under operating leases are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

2.18 Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for share splits / reverse share splits and bonus shares, as appropriate.

2.19 Taxes on income

Current tax is determined on the basis of taxable income and tax credits computed for each of the entities in the Group in accordance with the applicable tax rates and the provisions of Income Tax Act, 1961 and other applicable tax laws.

Deferred tax is recognised on timing differences, being the differences between the taxable income and the accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted as at the reporting date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all timing differences. Deferred tax assets are recognised for timing differences of items other than unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward losses only to the extent that reasonable certainty exists that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which these can be realised. However, if there are unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses and items relating to capital losses, deferred tax assets are recognised only if there is virtual certainty supported by convincing evidence that there will be sufficient future taxable income available to realise the assets. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if such items relate to taxes on income levied by the same governing tax laws and the Company has a legally enforceable right for such set off. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date for their realisability.

Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws, which gives future economic benefits in the form of adjustment to future income tax liability, is considered as an asset if there is convincing evidence that the entity will pay normal income tax. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as an asset in the Consolidated Balance Sheet when it is highly probable that future economic benefit associated with it will flow to the entity.

2.20 Impairment of assets

The carrying values of assets / cash generating units at each balance sheet date are reviewed for impairment if any indication of impairment exists. If the carrying amount of the assets exceed the estimated recoverable amount, an impairment is recognised for such excess amount. The impairment loss is recognised as an expense in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, unless the asset is carried at revalued amount, in which case any impairment loss of the revalued asset is treated as a revaluation decrease to the extent a revaluation reserve is available for that asset.

The recoverable amount is the greater of the net selling price and their value in use. Value in use is arrived at by discounting the future cash flows to their present value based on an appropriate discount factor.

When there is indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset (other than a revalued asset) in earlier accounting periods no longer exists or may have decreased, such reversal of impairment loss is recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, to the extent the amount was previously charged to the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss. In case of revalued assets such reversal is not recognised.

2.21 Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised when the Group has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes. Contingent assets are not recognised in the financial statements.

2.22 Share issue expenses

Share issue expenses are adjusted against the Securities Premium Account as permissible under Section 52 of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent any balance is available for utilisation in the Securities Premium Account. Share issue expenses in excess of the balance in the Securities Premium Account is expensed in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.23 Service tax input credit

Service tax input credit is accounted for in the books in the period in which the underlying service received is accounted and when there is reasonable certainty in availing/ utilizing the credits.

2.24 Operating Cycle

Based on the nature of activities of the Group and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents, the Group has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of its assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS

ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

Global Economy

The past year has seen mild strengthening in global activity and the trend is set to continue over the next two years. Owing to fiscal consolidation, investors are less worried about debt sustainability. According to IMF's World Economic Outlook 2014, global growth is projected to increase from about 3% in 2013 to about 3.6% in 2014. Growth is mainly forecasted to be fuelled by the developed economies that are slated to grow at over 2% in 2014 as compared to 1.3% in the preceding year.

Despite moderate recovery, many economies face structural barriers and policy constraints. High levels of unemployment and income inequality need immediate attention in order for more investment and faster productivity growth. Most developed and developing countries grappled with challenges in the aftermath of the notable slowdown of the two preceding years.

In emerging economies, growth is projected to pick up gradually from about 4.7% in 2013 to about 5% in 2014. This will largely be fueled by stronger external demand from advanced economies, although monetary conditions might hamper growth in domestic demand.

Indian Economy

The Indian economy achieved an unprecedented growth of over 9 per cent for three successive years between 2005-08 followed by a quick recovery from the global financial crisis between 2008-09. However over the past two years, the Indian economy has been going through challenging times resulting in a GDP growth rate of below 5 per cent.

There has been persistent uncertainty in the global economic outlook, due to crises in the Euro area and general slowdown in the global economy. This, coupled with domestic structural constraints and inflationary pressures has resulted in an extended slowdown. Fortunately, the upward trend of inflation that played a major role in the slowdown of growth, savings, investment, and consumption, appears to have subsided.

According to the Reserve Bank of India's Database of Indian Economy (RBI DBIE), the economy grew at a rate of 4.47% in 2012-2013 and by 4.74 % in 2013-2014.

The country has been consistently rated among the world's top three investment destinations by international bodies such as the World Bank and UNCTAD, supported by its liberal foreign investment policies. Many of the key indicators suggest that India would grow at an unprecedented pace finally cementing its potential as an economic powerhouse.

INDIA MEDIA AND ENTERTAINMENT INDUSTRY

Overview

According to the FICCI KPMG report, the television industry in India is estimated at INR 417 billion in 2013, and is expected to grow at a CAGR of 16 per cent over 2013-18, to reach INR 885 billion in 2018. The Indian M&E industry grew at a rate of 11.8% in the current year touching an overall size of INR 918 billion, which is forecasted to double in the next 5 years. This makes it evident that the Indian M&E industry is on an illustrious path and it will continue to evolve with every passing year.

Emerging Trends in Indian Media

Digitisation - Driving Transformation in the Cable Television Ecosystem

The success of digitisation in Phase 1 repeated itself in Phase 2 covering 38 cities with a population of over 1 million across 15 states. Rapid deployment and installation of STBs in the Phase 2 cities saw the majority of analog households converted to digital.

According to the FICCI KPMG Report, a total of approximately 22 million STBs have been installed in the 42 Phase 1 & 2 cities.

Growth of HD

As the value chain shifts to addressable systems and tiering, growth in cable TV ARPUs will be driven by customized channel packs, premium content channels, HD channels and other value added services.

The demand for subscription-driven premium content, high definition and digital video recorders are on the rise. For example, a few recently launched channels have given Indian viewers access to American television content in HD at almost the same time as its original telecast. There are over 40 HD channels on-air in India currently and the number is expected to go up rapidly with the increasing penetration of HD and availability of content.

Cable Broadband - The Next Growth Driver

There is a growing demand for high speed internet in India fuelled by a rapidly increasing internet device market including computers and handheld devices. A burgeoning e-commerce sector and high data consumption habits make this a vast and untapped potential. Implementation of DAS Phases 1 & 2 has set the stage for the growth of cable broadband in the country.

Cable is the only 'pipe' or wired platform which has an existing deep penetration in Indian households. It also has the capacity to provide double-play services of video and high-speed broadband internet and triple-play services with the addition of fixed line telephony along with these services. MSOs have been investing in the infrastructure required for setting up broadband networks in their markets and are gearing up to offer bundled cable and broadband offerings to their subscribers.

The Era of Smart Phones

India has the second largest mobile phone user base and is the third largest smartphone market in the world in terms of shipments (over 44 million units) according to the FICCI KPMG report. By the end of 2013, India had approximately 66 million internet enabled smartphones and the number is expected to grow rapidly over the next few years.

With faster internet speeds and a reduction in data prices, scope for content repurposing, multi screen media viewing etc. on a rise. This is leading to an increase in internet based consumption of music, radio, TV programming, video gaming, VOD services and movies. As a result, numerous players have created dedicated applications for hand held devices, driving the demand for high speed data connections.

Local Cable Channels: A Potential Game Changer

Considering the diversity and expanse of our country, there is a ready audience for consumption of regional content in India. Most of the major broadcasters now have a foray of regional channels on local and national levels to cater specifically to these audiences. Major print houses are expanding into regional markets with localized publications.

Following digitisation, local cable channels also present a game changing opportunity for the cable television sector. Local cable channels offer an unparalleled platform for tapping large advertisers by giving them access to narrower geographies and target groups, thereby offering them better ad spend ROIs. It also allows local businesses a relevant and cost effective advertising medium.

Digital cable channels could also drive the growth of niche content such as health, education, localised home shopping etc.

Indian Television Industry

During 2013, the television industry continued on the exciting path of digitisation. This has led to better addressability and increase in subscription revenues.

By the end of 2013, India had 161 million TV households implying a TV penetration of over 60 per cent. Out of these, the number of Cable and Satellite subscribers increased to 139 million signaling a growth of 9 million subscribers and is further forecasted to rise at a rapid rate over the coming years. The total industry value is estimated to be INR 417 billion as per the FICCI KPMG Report, 2014 and is projected to be valued at INR 885 billion in 2018.

Owing to consolidation in an increasingly digitised market and streamlining of processes, the industry is slated to get rid of problems relating to addressability and piracy. Further, the adoption of high definition content and value added services is likely to generate additional revenues.

Some of the major developments for the year in review are:

Phase 3 & 4 – Opportunity for further Consolidation

According to industry estimates there is a total requirement of approximately 80 million digital cable set top boxes in Phase 3 & 4 across the country. This is almost 3 times the total requirement of Phase 1 & 2 markets. The implementation of digitisation involves a lot of dependence on systems, processes, capital and investments. Looking at the nature of the players in Phase 3 & 4 areas, there could possibly be a lot of consolidation opportunity, just like Phase 1 & 2.

Moving towards an environment of Retail Billing

The final step in the transformation of the MSO-Subscriber relationship into a B2C Model is the initiation of Gross Billing by MSOs. Digitisation has ushered in a new era of consumer focused operations resulting in a phenomenal change in business processes.

MSOs are offering tiered packages at different price points to cater to the needs of different categories of consumers. This alone is likely to be one of the biggest growth drivers for the industry, giving platforms the ability to offer more content and channels to consumers and charge for them accordingly.

In this regard, the TRAI issued a direction to all MSOs in May 2014 whose salient features are as following:

- The MSO should ensure delivery of the bill to each subscriber by hand/post or e-mail (as opted by the subscriber)
- The SMS (Subscriber Management System) of the MSO should provide for an option of online payment of bills by subscribers effective mid July 2014
- An electronic acknowledgement should be sent by the MSO to the subscriber on his registered mobile

number/email ID immediately on receipt of his payment effective end June 2014

The above regulatory changes will help realise the true B2C potential of the cable business.

TRAI Order on Content Aggregation:

The TRAI has structured the role of content aggregators by setting forth guidelines wherein they can bundle/form bouquets of channels of only one broadcaster. According to the regulation issued in February 2014, the TRAI has given broadcasters 6 months for reworking their existing deals with content distribution platforms.

SWOT ANALYSIS

Strengths

- Market leader in Cable Distribution

DEN Networks has retained its position as India's largest MSO in terms of subscriber base. It currently serves an estimated 13 million homes across 200+ cities. The company has been a frontrunner in the digitisation of Indian cable television and has over 6.4 million digital subscribers.

DEN's geographic footprint spans 13 key states across India including Delhi, Uttar Pradesh, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Gujarat, Rajasthan, Haryana, Kerala, West Bengal, etc. The company has a significant presence in the strategic & economically important Hindi Speaking Markets (HSM) belt.

DEN Digital - DEN's digital cable services brand is one of the market leaders in India's digital television space. DEN Digital offers a wide choice of channels and services spanning all major genres and languages. DEN's premiere HD digital cable services – "DEN HD" offers channels in real HD in video resolution of 1080i.

- Channel Offering

DEN's channel packages have been designed and customised for local markets to cater to the specific tastes of audiences in these markets while offering the best value for money for the price conscious Indian consumer. With a perfect mix of all genres and regional channels, DEN's packages cater to the diverse needs of the entire family.

- Transforming into a Consumer Centric Organization

Over the recent past, DEN Networks has undergone significant overhaul in operations to transform itself from a B2B to a B2C organization. A long term managed services contract with WIPRO, and streamlining of operations and processes are a few steps in this direction. This will cater to the billing, CRM, inventory management, web interface and payment gateway requirements of the company, eventually leading to the consumer getting a seamless service experience.

- Financially Well Positioned

DEN is one of the very few MSOs to be financially very well positioned for the implementation of Phase 3 & 4. These phases have a massive deployment requirement and huge investments in terms of infrastructure and seeding demands would be involved to digitise the exiting subscriber base and expand into newer territories. DEN is well capitalized with access to equity and debt funding to meet the needs of digitisation and to fund the company's other growth initiatives like broadband.

Opportunities

- Broadband

The next focus area emerging after the implementation of DAS is cable broadband. With a last mile addressable presence in nearly 20 million homes in DAS Phase 1 & 2 cities, MSOs are now looking at expanding through high speed internet services to their digital subscribers.

The Company has started rolling out its superfast broadband service – DEN Boomband in selective areas of Delhi and UP. In the year to come, DEN plans to expand its broadband service across its digitised markets, giving consumers speeds of up to 100 Mbps. A host of consumer friendly plans are on offer ranging across various price points.

- HD

DEN has the capacity to carry a large number of HD channels on its existing bandwidth. Currently DEN HD offers over 20 HD channels. The company is actively pushing 'DEN HD', its premiere HD service. On offer are attractive exchange plans for existing SD subscribers and highly competitive HD channel packages for either monthly or long term subscription.

With the increase in penetration of high definition televisions, the demand for HD STBs is also growing rapidly and DEN aims to capture this space by providing state of the art high definition services through its platform.

Risks and Concerns

- Hurdles in Implementation of DAS in Phase 3 & 4

Hurdles in the implementation of DAS could result in under recoveries on box subsidies being given to consumers, delay in full consumer billing and thereby lower revenues.

- Exchange rate

Depreciation of the rupee may add to the company's subsidy burden and capex outlay as the cost of set top boxes and other equipments which are imported may rise.

- Competition from wireless operators for Broadband

- Rise in Content Costs

Any disproportionate rise in content costs charged by broadcasters which the company is unable to pass on to its subscribers could strain the company's finances.

The two phased campaign started off with a camp inviting all employees to pledge to carry out small changes in their daily routine that eventually makes a meaningful impact to the environment. This was followed by an awareness drive and voluntary monetary contributions to the WWF's Save the Tiger fund. Employees turned out in huge numbers to make the pledge and a commendable amount was contributed jointly by DEN employees towards this cause.

Helping out the less fortunate with Goonj: DEN has carried ahead its association with the NGO – "Goonj" to contribute to the underprivileged sections of the society. The various initiatives include "Rahat Winters" and "Don't pack your unwanted clothes". Several clothes collection drives are organized in the corporate office and employees are encouraged to contribute whole heartedly.

INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEM

DEN's internal control systems include systems and processes for the precise compilation of financial statements, management reports and the compliance of regulatory and statutory requirements. Measures adopted by DEN to safeguard investor interests include high levels of Corporate Governance and periodic communication of important developments with investors through the release of quarterly investor updates and earnings conference calls.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

TO THE MEMBERS OF DEN NETWORKS LIMITED

REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of DEN Networks Limited, ('the Company') which comprise the Balance Sheet as at 31 March, 2014, the Statement of Profit and Loss and the Cash Flow Statement for the year then ended, and a summary of the significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

MANAGEMENT'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Company's Management is responsible for the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the Accounting Standards notified under the Companies Act, 1956 ("the Act") (which continue to be applicable in respect of Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 in terms of General Circular 15/2013 dated 13th September, 2013 of the Ministry of Corporate Affairs) and in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatements, whether due to fraud or error.

AUDITORS' RESPONSIBILITY

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and the disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers the internal controls relevant to the Company's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of the accounting policies used and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates made by the Management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

ANNEXURE TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

(Referred to in paragraph 1 under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

- i. Having regard to the nature of the Company's business/ activities/result, clauses ii, x, xiii, xiv and xix of Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2003 are not applicable.
- ii. In respect of its fixed assets:
 - a. The Company has maintained proper records showing full particulars, including quantitative details and situation of fixed assets.
 - b. The Company has a program of verification of fixed assets to cover all items in a phased manner over a period of three years other than set top boxes which are in possession of the customers/ third parties and distribution equipment comprising overhead and underground cables. Management is of the view that it is not possible to verify these assets due to their nature and location. Pursuant to the program, certain fixed assets were physically verified by the Management during the year and no material discrepancies were noticed on such verification. In our opinion, other than for physical verification of set top boxes and distribution equipment referred to above, the frequency of verification of fixed assets is reasonable having regard to the size of the Company and the nature of its assets.
 - c. The fixed assets disposed off during the year, in our opinion, do not constitute a substantial part of the fixed assets of the Company and such disposal has, in our opinion, not affected the going concern status of the Company.
- iii. In respect of loans, secured or unsecured, granted by the Company to companies, firms or other parties listed in the register maintained under Section 301 of the Companies Act, 1956, according to the information and explanations given to us:
 - a. The Company has granted a loan of ₹ (million) 61.01 to one party during the year. At the year-end, the outstanding balance of such loan was ₹ (million) 61.01 and the maximum amount involved during the year was ₹ (million) 61.01.

 - c. The receipts of principal amounts and interest have been regular/as per stipulations.
 - d. There is no overdue amount in excess of ₹ (million) 0.1 remaining outstanding as at the year-end.
- iv. In our opinion and according to the information and explanations given to us, having regard to the explanations that some of the capital items purchased are of special nature and suitable alternative sources are not readily available for obtaining comparable quotations, there is an adequate internal control system commensurate with the size of the Company and the nature of its business with regard to purchase of fixed assets and the sale of goods and services. During the course of our audit, we have not observed any major weakness in such internal control system. The Company's operations do not give rise to any purchase of inventory during the current year.
- v. In respect of contracts or arrangements entered in the Register maintained in pursuance of Section 301 of the Companies Act, 1956, to the best of our knowledge and belief and according to the information and explanations given to us:

 - b. Where each of such transactions is in excess of ₹ (million) 0.5 in respect of any party other than certain purchases which are of a special nature for which comparable quotations are not available being of a specialised nature, the transactions have been made at prices which are prima facie reasonable having regard to the prevailing market prices at the relevant time.
- vi. According to the information and explanations given to us, the Company has not accepted any deposits from the public during the year, within the meaning of Sections 58A and 58AA or any other relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 and the Companies (Acceptance of Deposits) Rules, 1975.
- vii. In our opinion, the internal audit function carried out during the year by firm of Chartered Accountants appointed by the Management has been commensurate with the size of the Company and the nature of its business.
- viii. We have broadly reviewed the cost records maintained by the Company pursuant to the Companies (Cost Accounting Records) Rules, 2011 prescribed by the Central Government under Section 209(1)(d) of the Companies Act, 1956 and are of the opinion that, prima facie, the prescribed cost records have been maintained. We have, however, not made a detailed examination of the cost records with a view to determine whether they are accurate or complete.

ix. According to the information and explanations given to us in respect of statutory dues:

- a. The Company has generally been regular in depositing its undisputed statutory dues including Provident Fund, Employees' State Insurance, Income Tax, Sales Tax, Wealth Tax, Service Tax, Customs Duty, Entertainment Tax, Cess and other material statutory dues applicable to it with the appropriate authorities during the year and that there are no undisputed amounts payable in respect of these dues which have remained outstanding as at 31 March, 2014 for a period of more than six months from the date they became payable except for the dues related to amusement tax, the details of which are given below:

- x. In our opinion and according to the information and explanations given to us, the Company has not defaulted in the repayment of dues to banks and financial institutions. The Company has not issued any debentures.

The financial statements have been prepared on accrual basis under the historical cost convention. The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are consistent with those followed in the previous year.

2.2 Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Indian GAAP requires the management of the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of income and expenses during the year. Such estimates includes provision for income tax, future obligations under employment retirement benefit plans, provision for doubtful debts and advances and estimated useful life of tangible and intangible assets. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in the current and future periods.

2.3 Cash and cash equivalents (for purpose of Cash Flow Statement)

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term balances (with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition) and highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value.

2.4 Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using indirect method, whereby loss before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals and accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from regular revenue generating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated based on available information.

2.5 Depreciation and amortisation

c.	Computers	6 years
d.	Office & other equipment	3 to 10 years

1. Profit on sale of investments in mutual funds is recorded on transfer of title from the Company and is determined as the difference between the sales price and the carrying value of the investment.

2. Interest on the deployment of surplus funds is recognised using the time-proportion method, based on interest rates implicit in the transaction.
3. Interest income is accounted on accrual basis. Dividend income is accounted for when the right to receive it is established.

2.8 Tangible assets Tangible assets

1. Fixed assets are stated at the cost of acquisition less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. The actual cost capitalised includes purchase price, and all other attributable costs of bringing the assets to working condition for intended use.
2. Assets are capitalised on the date when they are ready for intended use.
3. Projects under which tangible fixed assets are not yet ready for their intended use are carried at cost, comprising direct cost, related incidental expenses and attributable interest.

2.9 Intangible assets

1. Intangible assets acquired in business acquisitions are stated at fair value as determined by the management of the Company on the basis of valuation by expert valuers, less accumulated amortisation.
2. Other intangible assets are stated at cost of acquisition less accumulated amortisation. The actual cost capitalised includes purchase price, and all other attributable costs of bringing the assets to working condition for intended use.

2.10 Foreign currency transactions and translations

Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Realised gains and losses on foreign exchange transactions settled during the year are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Long-term foreign currency monetary items outstanding at the balance sheet date are translated at the rates prevailing on that date and resultant gains/losses on foreign exchange translations are capitalised as part of the depreciable fixed assets to which the monetary item relates and depreciated over the remaining useful life of such assets.

In case of forward contracts for foreign exchange, the difference between the forward rate and the exchange rate at the date of transaction are recognised over the life of the contract.

2.11 Investments

Trade investments are investments made to enhance the Company's business interests. Investments are classified either as long term or current investments, based on management's intention at the time of purchase. Long-term investments are stated at cost less provision for other than temporary diminution in the carrying value, as determined separately for each investment. Current investments are stated at the lower of cost and fair value. The comparison of cost and fair value is done separately in respect of each category of investments.

2.12 Employee benefits

1. Short term employee benefits

The undiscounted amount of short term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange of services rendered by employees is recognised during the period when the employee renders the services. These benefits include salaries, bonus, leave travel allowance and performance incentives.

2. Long term employee benefits

a. Provident fund and other state plans

Company's contributions towards recognised Provident Fund, Employee State Insurance Fund and Employees Pension Scheme under defined contribution plans are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss during the period when services are rendered by the employees.

b. Gratuity

For defined benefit plans in the form of gratuity fund, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each Balance Sheet date. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognised immediately to the extent that the benefits are already vested and otherwise is amortised on a straight-line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested. The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Balance

Sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognised past service cost.

c. Compensated absences

The employees of the Company are entitled to compensated absences. The employees can carry forward a portion of unutilised accrued compensated absence and utilize it in future periods or receive cash compensation for the unutilised accrued compensated absence. The Company records an obligation for compensated absences in the period in which the employee renders the service that increase this entitlement. The Company measures the expected cost of compensated absence as the additional amount that the Company expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the balance sheet date.

Liability with regard to compensated absences and gratuity is accrued based on actuarial valuations at the balance sheet date, carried out by an independent actuary. Actuarial valuation is carried out using the projected unit credit method, which recognises each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation. The obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows. The discount rate used for determining the present value of the obligation is based on the market yields on government securities as at the balance sheet date. Actuarial gains/losses are recognised immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss as income or expense.

2.13 Employee Stock Option Scheme (ESOS)

Stock options granted to the employees under the stock options schemes are accounted at intrinsic value as per the accounting treatment prescribed by the guidance note on Employee share based payments issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Accordingly, the excess of market price, determined as per the guidance note, of underlying equity shares (market value), over the exercise price of the options is recognised as deferred stock compensation expense and is charged to statement of profit and loss on a straight line basis over the period of the options. The amortised portion of the cost is shown under reserve and surplus.

2.14 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalised as part of cost of the asset. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for intended use. Other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

2.15 Segment information

1. Business segments

Based on similarity of activities, risks and reward structure, organisation structure and internal reporting systems, the Company operates in the distribution & placement of television channels and related services.

2. Geographical segments

Secondary segmental reporting is performed on the basis of the geographical location of customers i.e. within India and overseas.

2.16 Leases

1. Finance leases

Leases under which the Company assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Assets taken on finance lease are capitalised at the inception of the lease at the lower of the fair value or the present value of minimum lease payments and a liability is created for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and interest cost, so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on outstanding liability for each period.

2. Operating leases

Leases where the lessor effectively retains substantially all the risks and benefits of ownership of the leased asset are classified as operating leases. Lease payments under operating leases are recognised as expense in the statement of profit and loss on a straight line basis over the lease term.

2.17 Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit after tax by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit after tax as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

2.18 Taxation

Current tax is determined in accordance with the provisions of Income Tax Act, 1961. Advance taxes and provisions for current taxes are presented in the balance sheet after off - setting advance taxes paid and income tax provisions.

Deferred tax charge or credit is recognised on timing differences being the difference between taxable income and accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal, subject to consideration of prudence, in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets on unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses are not recognised unless there is a virtual certainty that there will be sufficient future taxable income available to realise such assets. Deferred tax assets are reviewed for the appropriateness of their carrying values at each balance sheet date.

Minimum alternate tax (MAT) paid in accordance with Income Tax Act, 1961, which gives rise to future economic benefit in the form of adjustment from income tax liability arising in future periods and is recognised when it is probable that the Company will be able to set off the same and is accordingly adjusted from the current tax charge for that year.

Provision for wealth tax is made based on tax liability computed after considering tax allowances and exemptions available in accordance with the provisions of the Wealth tax Act, 1957.

2.19 Impairment of assets

At each balance sheet date, the Company reviews the carrying amount of its fixed assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the assets is estimated in order to determine the extent of impairment loss. Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's net selling price and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows expected from the continuing use of the asset and from its disposal are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects the current market assessments of time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

Reversal of impairment loss is recognised immediately as income in the statement of profit and loss.

2.20 Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised when there is a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and in respect of which reliable estimate can be made. A disclosure of a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources or when a reliable estimate of the amount of obligation cannot be made. Where there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

2.21 Share issue expenses

Share issue expenses are adjusted against the Securities premium account as permissible under Section 78(2) of the Companies Act, 1956, to the extent balance is available for utilisation in the Securities Premium Account.

2.22 Service tax input credit

Service tax input credit is accounted for in the books in the period in which the underlying service received is accounted and when there is reasonable certainty in availing/ utilizing the credits.

2.23 Operating Cycle

Based on the nature of activities of the Company and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents, the Company has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF
DEN NETWORKS LIMITED

REPORT ON THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of DEN NETWORKS LIMITED (the "Company"), its subsidiaries and jointly controlled entities (the Company, its subsidiaries and jointly controlled entities constitute "the Group"), which comprise the Consolidated Balance Sheet as at 31 March, 2014, the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss and the Consolidated Cash Flow Statement for the year then ended, and a summary of the significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

MANAGEMENT'S RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The Company's Management is responsible for the preparation of these consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position, consolidated financial performance and consolidated cash flows of the Group in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

AUDITORS' RESPONSIBILITY

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and the disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Company's preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of the accounting policies used and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates made by the Management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, and based on the consideration of the reports of the other auditors on the financial statements of the subsidiaries and jointly controlled entities referred to below in the Other Matter paragraph, the aforesaid consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India:

- (a) in the case of the Consolidated Balance Sheet, of the state of affairs of the Group as at 31 March, 2014;
- (b) in the case of the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss, of the profit of the Group for the year ended on that date; and
- (c) in the case of the Consolidated Cash Flow Statement, of the cash flows of the Group for the year ended on that date.

EMPHASIS OF MATTER

- a) We draw attention to note 2.3 (ix) to the consolidated financial statements whereby it is stated that the financial statements of a subsidiary company have not been consolidated due to non-availability of the audited financial statements/management certified accounts of that subsidiary. We are unable to comment on the impact of adjustments if any, on the Consolidated Financial Statements had the financial statements of the subsidiary company been consolidated.
- b) We draw attention to note 2.3 (x) to the consolidated financial statements whereby it is stated that the financial statements of a subsidiary company have been consolidated based on unaudited financial statements as certified by the Company's management. These financial statements reflect total assets of ₹16.57 million as at 31 March, 2014, total revenues of ₹23.79 million and net cash outflows amounting to ₹0.08 million for the year ended on that date as considered in the consolidated financial statements.
- c) We draw attention to note 44 of the consolidated financial statements wherein it is stated that the Digital Addressable System (DAS) subscription fee has not yet been finalised and the revenue on account of the same has been recognised based on certain estimates which in the management's view are reasonable.

Our opinion is not qualified in respect of these matters.

OTHER MATTER

We did not audit the financial statements of certain subsidiaries and jointly controlled entities, whose financial statements reflect total assets (net) of ₹10,794.34 million as at 31 March, 2014, total revenues of ₹3,381.00 million and net cash outflows amounting to ₹301.60 million for the year ended on that date, as considered in the consolidated financial statements. These financial statements have been audited by other auditors whose reports have been furnished to us by the Management and our opinion, in so far as it relates to the amounts and disclosures included in respect of these subsidiaries and jointly controlled entities, is based solely on the reports of the other auditors.

Our opinion is not qualified in respect of this matter.

2.4 Use of estimates

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with Indian GAAP requires the management of the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of income and expenses during the year. Such estimates includes provision for income tax, future obligations under employment retirement benefit plans, provision for doubtful debts and advances and estimated useful life of tangible and intangible assets. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in the current and future periods.

2.5 Cash and cash equivalents (for purpose of Cash Flow Statement)

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term balances (with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition) and highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value.

2.6 Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using indirect method, whereby net profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of non-cash nature and any deferrals and accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from regular revenue generating, investing and financing activities of the Group are segregated based on available information.

2.7 Depreciation and amortisation

Depreciation on fixed assets except leasehold improvements is provided on the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, as determined by the management, at the rates which are equal to or higher than the rates prescribed under Schedule XIV of the Companies Act, 1956. Depreciation is charged on a pro-rata basis for assets purchased/sold during the year.

3. Interest income is accounted on accrual basis. Dividend income is accounted for when the right to receive it is established.

2.10 Tangible assets

1. Fixed assets are stated at the cost of acquisition less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. The actual cost capitalised includes purchase price, and all other attributable costs of bringing the assets to working condition for intended use.
2. Assets are capitalised on the date when they are ready for intended use.
3. Projects under which tangible fixed assets are not yet ready for their intended use are carried at cost, comprising direct cost, related incidental expenses and attributable interest.

Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Realised gains and losses on foreign exchange transactions settled during the year are recognised in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Long-term foreign currency monetary items outstanding at the balance sheet date are translated at the rates prevailing on that date and resultant gains/losses on foreign exchange translations are capitalised as part of the depreciable fixed assets to which the monetary item relates and depreciated over the remaining useful life of such assets.

In case of forward contracts for foreign exchange, the difference between the forward rate and the exchange rate at the date of transaction are recognised over the life of the contract.

2.13 Investments

Current investments are stated at the lower of cost or fair value. The comparison of cost and fair value is done separately in respect of each category of investments.

2.14 Employee benefits

1. Short term employee benefits

benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each Balance Sheet date. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognised immediately to the extent that the benefits are already vested and otherwise is amortised on a straight-line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested. The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Balance Sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognised past service cost.

c. Compensated absences

The employees of the Company are entitled to compensated absences. The employees can carry forward a portion of unutilised accrued compensated absence and utilize it in future periods or receive cash compensation for the unutilised accrued compensated absence. The Company records an obligation for compensated absences in the period in which the employee renders the service that increase this entitlement. The Company measures the expected cost of compensated absence as the additional amount that the Company expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the balance sheet date.

Liability with regard to compensated absences and gratuity is accrued based on actuarial valuations at the balance sheet date, carried out by an independent actuary. Actuarial valuation is carried out using the projected unit credit method, which recognises each period of service as giving rise to additional unit of employee benefit entitlement and measures each unit separately to build up the final obligation. The obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows. The discount rate used for determining the present value of the obligation is based on the market yields on government securities as at the balance sheet date. 2.15 Employee Stock Option Scheme (ESOS)

Stock options granted to the employees under the stock options schemes are accounted at intrinsic value as per the accounting treatment prescribed by the guidance note on Employee share based payments issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Accordingly, the excess of market price, determined as per the guidance note, of underlying equity shares (market value), over the exercise price of the options is recognised as deferred stock compensation expense and is charged to Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight line basis over the period of the options. The amortised portion of the cost is shown under reserve and surplus.

2.16 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are capitalised as part of cost of the asset. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for intended use. Other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

Secondary segmental reporting is performed on the basis of the geographical location of customers i.e. within India and overseas.

2.18 Leases

1. Finance leases

Leases under which the Group assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Assets taken on finance lease are capitalised at the inception of the lease at the lower of the fair value or the present value of minimum lease payments and a liability is created for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and interest cost, so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on outstanding liability for each period.

2. Operating leases

Lease payments under operating leases are recognised as expense in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight line basis over the lease term.

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit after tax by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit after tax as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

2.20 Taxation

Current tax is determined in accordance with the provisions of Income Tax Act, 1961 for each of the entities in the Group. Advance taxes and provisions for current taxes are presented in the balance sheet after off - setting advance taxes paid and income tax provisions.

Deferred tax charge or credit is recognised on timing differences being the difference between taxable income and accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal, subject to consideration of prudence, in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets on unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses are not recognised unless there is a virtual certainty that there will be sufficient future taxable income available to realise such assets. Deferred tax assets are reviewed for the appropriateness of their carrying values at each balance sheet date.

Minimum alternate tax (MAT) paid in accordance with Income Tax Act, 1961, which gives rise to future economic benefit in the form of adjustment from income tax liability, is recognised when it is certain that the company will be able to set off the same and adjusted from the current tax charge for that year.

2.22 Impairment of assets

At each balance sheet date, the Company reviews the carrying amount of its fixed assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the assets is estimated in order to determine the extent of impairment loss. Recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's net selling price and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows expected from the continuing use of the asset and from its disposal are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects the current market assessments of time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

Reversal of impairment loss is recognised immediately as income in the Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.23 Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised when there is a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and in respect of which reliable estimate can be made. A disclosure of a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. Where there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

2.24 Share issue expenses

Share issue expenses are adjusted against the Securities premium account as permissible under Section 78(2) of the Companies Act, 1956, to the extent balance is available for utilisation in the Securities Premium Account.

2.25 Service tax input credit

Service tax input credit is accounted for in the books in the period in which the underlying service received is accounted and when there is no uncertainty in availing/ utilizing the credits.

2.26 Operating Cycle

Based on the nature of activities of the Group and the normal time between acquisition of assets and their realisation in cash or cash equivalents, the Group has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of classification of its assets and liabilities as current and non-current.

Fixed assets are stated at the cost of acquisition including incidental costs related to acquisition and installation less accumulated depreciation. The actual cost capitalized includes material cost, freight, installation costs, duties and taxes, finance charges and other incidental expenses incurred during the construction / installation stage. Fixed Assets acquired during business acquisitions are accounted for at the fair market value of the assets.

Fixed assets under construction and cost of assets not ready for use before the year-end, are disclosed as capital work in progress.

ii) Intangible Assets

Intangible assets acquired in a business acquisition are recorded at fair value basis determined by the management of the Company. Other Intangible Assets are stated at cost.

1.06 Depreciation / Amortization

Depreciation on fixed assets except leasehold improvements is provided on the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, as determined by the management, at the rates which are equal to or higher than the rates prescribed under Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013. Depreciation is charged on a pro-rata basis for assets purchased/sold during the year. The management's estimate of the useful life of the various fixed assets is as follows:

Head End Equipments	10 Years	Furniture & Fixtures	6 Years
Distribution Equipments - Underground	15 Years	Set top Boxes	8 Years
Distribution Equipments	6 Years	Computers	3 Years
Office Equipments	5 Years	Vehicles	6 Years

Intangible assets are amortized on a straight line method over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life of the intangible assets and the amortisation period are reviewed at the end of each financial year and the amortisation period is revised to reflect the changed pattern, if any.

SKYNET CABLE NETWORK PRIVATE LIMITED (CIN-U74140DL2011PTC228312)

Fixed assets acquired through acquisition of business purchase are depreciated over remaining useful life of 5 years as estimated by an approved valuer.

Leasehold improvements are amortised over the lower of the useful life or the period of the lease.

For these class of assets based on internal assessment carried out by technical team, the management believes that the useful lives as given above best represent the period over which management expects to use these assets. Hence the useful lives for these assets is different from the useful lives as prescribed under Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

1.07 Investments

Trade investments are the investments made to enhance the company's business interests. Investments are either classified as long term or current investments, based on management's intention at the time of purchase. Long-term investments are stated at cost and provision is made to recognise any decline, other than temporary, determined separately for each investment. Current investments are stated at the lower of cost and fair value. The comparison of cost and fair value is done separately in respect of each category of investments.

1.08 Leases

Operating leases

Lease payments under an operating lease are recognised as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight line basis over the lease term.

1.09 Taxation

Income tax expenses comprise current tax and deferred tax charge or credit (reflecting the tax effects of the timing differences between the accounting income and taxable income for the period). The deferred tax charge or credit and the corresponding deferred tax liabilities or assets are recognised using the tax rates that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent there is reasonable certainty that the assets can be realised in the future; however, where there is unabsorbed depreciation or carried forward loss under taxation laws, deferred tax assets are recognised only if there is virtual certainty of realisation of such assets. Deferred tax assets are reviewed for the appropriateness of their carrying values at each balance sheet date.

1.10 Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs attributable to the acquisition or construction of a qualifying asset are capitalized as part of cost of the asset. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for intended use. Other borrowing costs are recognized as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

1.11 Earnings per share

In determining earnings per share, the company considers the net profit after tax and includes the post tax effect of any extra ordinary /exceptional item. Basic earning per share is computed using the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earning per share is computed using the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year and dilutive equity equivalent shares outstanding at the year end, except where the results would be anti dilutive.

1.12 Impairment of assets

Impairment loss, if any, is provided to the extent, the carrying amount of assets exceeds their recoverable amount. Recoverable amount is higher of an asset's net selling price, and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life.

1.13 Provisions and Contingent liabilities

A provision is recognised when there is a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and in respect of which reliable estimate can be made. A disclosure of a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not require an outflow of resources. Where there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

SKYNET CABLE NETWORK PRIVATE LIMITED
Company Overview

BACKGROUND AND OPERATIONS

SkyNet Cable Network Private Limited is a Company incorporated in India on December 5, 2011. The Company is primarily engaged in providing cable television distribution and other related services. It is a subsidiary of Amogh Broadband Services Pvt. Ltd.

1 Significant accounting policies

1.01 Basis of preparation

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in India (Indian GAAP) to comply with the Accounting Standards specified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013, read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 and the relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the 2013 Act") / Companies Act, 1956 ("the 1956 Act"), as applicable. The financial statements have been prepared on accrual basis under the historical cost convention. The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the financial statements are consistent with those followed in the previous year except for change in the accounting policy for depreciation as more fully described in Note 1.06.

1.02 Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the results of operations during the reporting period. Examples of such estimates include estimates of income taxes, employment retirement benefit plans, provision for doubtful debts and advances and estimated useful life of fixed assets. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in current and future periods.

1.03 Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company, the revenue can be reliably measured and as per the management's assessment no significant uncertainty exists regarding realisation of the consideration.

i) Service Revenue

Income from services is recognised upon completion of services as per the term of contract. Period based services are accrued and recognised pro-rata over the contractual period.

Service revenue comprises of income from subscription, placement of channels, advertisement revenue and other services. These are recognised to the extent the amount is billable.

Revenue billed but not recognised at the end of the year has been disclosed as deferred revenue under current liabilities.

1.04 Expenditure

Expenses are accounted for on the accrual basis and provisions are made for all known losses and liabilities.

1.05 Fixed assets

i) Tangible Assets

Fixed assets are stated at the cost of acquisition including incidental costs related to acquisition and installation less accumulated depreciation. The actual cost capitalized includes material cost, freight, installation costs, duties and taxes, finance charges and other incidental expenses incurred during the construction / installation stage. Fixed Assets acquired during business acquisitions are accounted for at the fair market value of the assets.

Fixed assets under construction and cost of assets not ready for use before the year-end, are disclosed as capital work in progress.

ii) Intangible Assets

Intangible assets acquired in a business acquisition are recorded at fair value basis determined by the management of the Company. Other Intangible Assets are stated at cost.

1.06 Depreciation / Amortization

Depreciation on fixed assets except leasehold improvements is provided on the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, as determined by the management, at the rates which are equal to or higher than the rates prescribed under Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013. Depreciation is charged on a pro-rata basis for assets purchased/sold during the year. The management's estimate of the useful life of the various fixed assets is as follows:

Head End Equipments	10 Years	Furniture & Fixtures	6 Years
Distribution Equipments - Underground	15 Years	Set top Boxes	8 Years
Distribution Equipments	6 Years	Computers	3 Years
Office Equipments	5 Years	Vehicles	6 Years

Intangible assets are amortized on a straight line method over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life of the Intangible assets and the amortisation period are reviewed at the end of each financial year and the amortisation period is revised to reflect the changed pattern, if any.

Fixed assets acquired through acquisition of business purchase are depreciated over remaining useful life of 5 years as estimated by an approved valuer.

Leasehold Improvements are amortised over the lower of the useful life or the period of the lease.

For these class of assets based on internal assessment carried out by technical team, the management believes that the useful lives as given above best represent the period over which management expects to use these assets. Hence the useful lives for these assets is different from the useful lives as prescribed under Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act. 2013.

1.07 Investments

Trade investments are the investments made to enhance the company's business interests. Investments are either classified as long term or current investments, based on management's intention at the time of purchase. Long-term investments are stated at cost and provision is made to recognise any decline, other than temporary, determined separately for each investment. Current investments are stated at the lower of cost and fair value. The comparison of cost and fair value is done separately in respect of each category of investments.

1.08 Leases

Operating leases

Lease payments under an operating lease are recognised as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss on a straight line basis over the lease term.

1.09 Taxation

Income tax expenses comprise current tax and deferred tax charge or credit (reflecting the tax effects of the timing differences between the accounting income and taxable income for the period). The deferred tax charge or credit and the corresponding deferred tax liabilities or assets are recognised using the tax rates that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent there is reasonable certainty that the assets can be realised in the future; however, where there is unabsorbed depreciation or carried forward loss under taxation laws, deferred tax assets are recognised only if there is virtual certainty of realisation of such assets. Deferred tax assets are reviewed for the appropriateness of their carrying values at each balance sheet date.

1.10 Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs attributable to the acquisition or construction of a qualifying asset are capitalized as part of cost of the asset. A qualifying asset is one that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for intended use. Other borrowing costs are recognized as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

1.11 Earnings per share

In determining earnings per share, the company considers the net profit after tax and includes the post tax effect of any extra ordinary /exceptional item. Basic earning per share is computed using the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earning per share is computed using the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year and dilutive equity equivalent shares outstanding at the year end, except where the results would be anti dilutive.

1.12 Impairment of assets

Impairment loss, if any, is provided to the extent, the carrying amount of assets exceeds their recoverable amount. Recoverable amount is higher of an asset's net selling price, and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life.

1.13 Provisions and Contingent liabilities

A provision is recognised when there is a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and in respect of which reliable estimate can be made. A disclosure of a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. Where there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.
